LOS ANGELES (AP) — Saturated Southern California, plagued by flash floods in which at least 12 persons have died, braced today for a fresh storm expected to bring heavy downpours.

Union Rejected By Ferroxcube Employees 417-388

Plant employees of Ferroxcube Corporation of America, Saugerties on Tuesday rejected the bid of the International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO to be designated as bargaining agent, 417 to 388 in a National Labor Relations Board election held at the Mt. Marion plant.

826 Ballot
A total of 826 production, maintenance and plant clerical and technical employees cast ballots. However, 21 votes that were challenged. The employees voted for no union affiliation held a 29 vote majority. The results are unofficial until certified by NLRB.

At a previous vote October 1964, the majority was 32 against union affiliation with less than 400 employees voting. At that time 215 voted against the IUE and 179 cast ballots for the union. There were also four votes cast for the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

Turkey, Pigskin Is Menu For Thanksgiving Holiday

By JERRY BUCK
Associated Press Writer

Rooted in American tradition is the menu for Thanksgiving day: turkey and pigskin.

As much as a time of football rivalries, it is also becoming a day for spectacular parades as a reminder that Christmas can not be far away.

But above all else, as it has been for nearly 350 years, Thanksgiving is a day for families and for giving thanks.

President Johnson, in proclaiming Thursday a day of national thanksgiving, called for prayers that "the forces of violence, indifference and intolerance may soon vanish from the face of the earth."

He asked all persons to give thanks for "the blessings that have been bestowed upon our nation during the past 12 months."

The Johnson family will sit down to a late-afternoon dinner at the President's ranch near Johnson City, Tex. On the table will be turkey with cornbread dressing and giblet gravy, green beans amandine, sweet potatoes with marshmallow topping, as-crews feared new mud slides and torrents of water tonight and hoped for a respite Thursday, when only light rains were predicted.

Raked Cars Off Highways
In the heaviest November rains ever recorded in Southern California, flash floods in desert areas raked cars off highways and into washes and residents of hillside areas fought oozing mud as it inundated homes and yards.

The desert resort of Palm Springs, a winter mecca for smog-tired Los Angeles residents, was virtually isolated and cut in half by a flood that rushed down from the San Jacinto Mountains.

Witnesses said three persons were carried away in their cars and a man wading out to help was swept away in the torrent. Only one body was found; the others presumably drowned, authorities said.

Floods Hit Other Sectors
Floods hit other areas in San Bernardino County between Los Angeles and San Bernardino, 60 miles east.

At rocky Cucamonga Wash, a roaring flash flood caught a dozen cars and swept them half a block, tumbling over and over, some with their lights still burning.

Hal Malky, 19, saw a man swept away in the flood, then lamented: "I was so close. He finally was able to get out of the car. He was hysterical, saying 'Help me, help me.' I got to within inches of him and the cable snapped. His body flew up and disappeared."

Third in 12 Days
Police said most drivers and their passengers managed to escape while their cars were tumbling along in the flood. But one man vanished, officers said, while trying to wade to safety.

The storm expected today is the third in 12 days. The second storm hit Sunday and lasted through early Tuesday, raising the season total to 10.57 inches. Normal for the season from July 1 up to date is 14.1 inches.

Similar meals — allowing for regional tastes — are being prepared in millions of homes across the nation.

In Massachusetts, where the Pilgrims started it all in 1621, the State Restaurant Association estimates half a million will eat out Thanksgiving.

Members of the First Congregational church of Braintree, Mass., will march behind drummer Robert Benkins to festival services enacting the first Thanksgiving. Thousands are expected to visit historic sites at Plymouth and to climb aboard the Mayflower II.

In Virginia, which also lays claim to the first Thanksgiving, 700 persons turned out Sunday at the annual feast at Berkeley Plantation near Richmond commemorating the service held there Dec. 7, 1619.

Thanksgiving was once a day for college football rivalries, but Thursday's lineup is nearly as lean as a pickled-over turkey.

Cornell and Penn clash at Franklin Field in Philadelphia, but the television spotlight this year goes to the Nebraska-Oklahoma game at Lincoln, Neb.

Grand Jury Declares No 'Leak' in Report

The October Grand Jury failed to find "any proof or any violation of law, and or any substantiation of fact of allegations made" in an editorial of the air broadcast over a local radio station Oct. 27.

That editorial of the air alleged that material used by William A. Krum, Republican unsuccessful candidate for sheriff in his campaign for election, was contained in a recommendation by the grand jury a couple of days later in a report to the court. The editorial of the air reportedly alleged that there may have been a "leak" in the April Grand Jury report to its report to the court which allowed Krum to use the idea in his campaign.

Proposes Plan
The allegation arose from a statement of Krum to the effect that he would seek, if elected, to have prisoners serving time for minor offenses housed in a medium security building at New Paltz to relieve crowded conditions at the main jail in Kingston.

A couple days later the grand jury made a similar recommendation which resulted in the allegation that there may have been a "leak" in the secrecy of the grand jury.

In its final report, handed up to Supreme Court Justice Ellis J. Staley Jr., Monday afternoon the grand jury after three days investigation, and the calling of many witnesses including Harry M. Thayer, author of the broadcast, found no proof of any violation of law or any fact the allegation made over the air.

In its report to Judge Staley, made part of the court record, the grand jury suggested that its findings be "made public through all available news media."

The report to the court said: "At the outset we hold in violation the secrecy surrounding Grand Jury deliberations and we do not treat lightly any accusation or insinuations which tend to destroy this rule of law. It is for this primary reason that this October Term of the Grand Jury has made an intensive investigation and inquiry on November 18, 19, and 23, into an allegation, made in a radio editorial on October 27, 1965, that 'someone connected with the April Term of the Ulster County Grand Jury improperly and perhaps illegally violated the law.'"

Cite Cost of Probe
"Our findings and conclusions after due inquiry and investigation at substantial cost to Ulster County Taxpayers, show lack of any proof or any violation of law."

Ahavath Ball Is Set for Tonight

Says A-Plant Site Offer Is Premature

Supervisor George Majestic (D) Gardiner was "a little premature on his amendment of including the Galeville Airport site as an atomic center," Supervisor Clarence C. Raichle (R), 12th ward, said today. Raichle is chairman of the Board of Supervisors Industrial Development Committee.

"The committee on Industrial Development of the board concurred on the above as an industrial park but did not know of the Majestic amendment until it was time to vote on the original resolution which sought to have the airport revert to Ulster County when it is declared surplus by the government," Raichle said.

Majestic has sent out to all political subdivisions and civic organizations a request that they come to his aid to get an Atomic Energy $348 million project located at Galeville.

In a communication Supervisor Majestic points out that the Department of Defense will discontinue use of the airport as a communications center and declare it surplus.

The airport in the Town of Shawangunk is now used as a communications center for the First Army. It is believed the port will become surplus property when the center is moved and the Board of Supervisors seeks to have it revert to Ulster County as an industrial park.

Motion Lost
At the last meeting of the board, Supervisor Majestic moved to amend the resolution to have the board offer the site to the Atomic Energy Commission. His amendment lost but the board voted to request the site be given to the county.

The site consists of nearly 800 acres with paved runways and a large brick building. It was used as an auxiliary airport and communications center during the war.

Majestic in his communication cites the closeness of both the Walkkill and Shawangunk Kill as a source of water and states it would make an "ideal site for the acceleration project. It is estimated the project would engage some 2,000 persons.

Feel Minor Complaints Triggered Bloody Riot

CHESTER, Ill. (AP) — Minor complaints about prison conditions apparently caused the bloody four-hour convict riot at Menard State Prison Tuesday night in which three guards were killed and six others were injured.

Illinois Public Safety Director Ross Randolph a former Menard warden who went to the prison to talk convicts into releasing three guard hostages and surrendering, started an investigation into the cause of the riot.

Started by 4 'Madmen'
He said four "madmen" convicts had instigated the uprising, making knives out of steel bars and throwing a fire bomb into a guard cage in the dining hall at dinner. They said they wanted better food, more radios and more recreation.

The four convicts were talked into submission by Randolph and Menard Warden Max Frye as 300 guards and state troopers surrounded the prison kitchen in which the rioters had barricaded themselves with three guard hostages.

The ringleaders permitted a doctor to give one guard, Tom Gross, 32, of Chester, Ill., a blood transfusion through prison bars. Then they released Gross when his condition became obviously serious. Gross had been stabbed.

"We don't know what the real reason was," Randolph said. "There seemed to be some plan." (Continued on Page 47, Col. 3)

Van Dyke Asking State Review of Bias Decision

A complaint by Theron VanDyke, of 18 Mill Street, charging the Hudson Valley District Council of Carpenters with discrimination has been dismissed by the State Commission of Human Rights, it was reported today.

Conway Files Report
VanDyke, who disagrees with at least one phase of the report, has filed for a review of the decision.

The report was filed by J. Edward Conway, of Kingston, investigating commissioner.

It said in part: "Complainant here charged respondent with discriminating against him in terms of conditions or privileges of an apprenticeship program because of complainant's race or color."

"Complainant is a Negro. He alleges that he became a member of Carpenters Local Union No. 1173, as an apprentice in April of 1964, and was not called for any work until November of that year at which time he obtained 90 days employment."

"He asserts that during this period he was given no formal instruction as a carpenter and that most of his duties consisted of 'laborer's work' in the carrying of lumber from stacks to the place where the carpenters were working. Subsequently, and from May 3 to May 25, he was referred for picket duty, and on the 26th of May he was referred to Herzog & Stapleburgh Contracting Company at the site of the Imperial 400 Motel (Broadway) where this company was engaged in carpenter work."

"After two and one half days on this job, complainant was laid off upon the ground that he 'lacked experience.' He alleges that he believes that members of the Carpenters Union resented having a Negro member and that, accordingly, the officials and members of the union have not given him the opportunities for training that would ordinarily be given to an apprentice, and he therefore charges the union with unlawful discrimination against him as herein asserted and by failing to intervene on his behalf."

Air Picket Threat
"Mr. George Yerry, respondent's president, asserts that complainant's father, first called his attention to complainant's dismissal in a telephone conversation which undoubtedly resulted in a heated exchange, and that Mr. Yerry then informed Mr. VanDyke that at that time the union was short of workers and therefore complainant could be referred to another job. Mr. Yerry asserts that Mr. VanDyke replied 'No, it is that job or nothing' and threatened

The body will lie in state in the royal palace in Brussels Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Westmoreland Sees Long Conflict Ahead

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland warned the American people Thursday against hope for an early military victory over the Communists in the Vietnamese War.

The appraisal was given amid reports that the battle of the Ia Drang Valley pushed American casualties in Viet Nam last week to 240 killed in action. It was nearly three times the highest total announced for any previous week.

The U.S. Command also reported 470 Americans were wounded during the week ending at midnight Nov. 20 and 6 were missing in action.

In an interview with Mutual Broadcasting System, the commander of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam said:

Tendency to Exaggerate
"When the American people read the headlines about victories which have been enjoyed in recent months, there may be a tendency for them to exaggerate the magnitude of these actions. By and large, these tactical actions are small, involving relatively small numbers of troops and from these successes there may be a tendency to draw a conclusion that a battle or series of battles may end the conflict through a single or a combination of military victories."

"This is not that type of war. I do believe that there is a certain danger that we may be overwhelmed by a certain feeling of optimism and may lose sight of what I consider a true appraisal of the situation. It involves a long conflict and we must be prepared to accept this."

Must Meet Challenge
On the other hand, Westmoreland said that the big U.S. troop buildup has "brought an air of optimism" to the Vietnamese.

At the same time, he said North Vietnamese troops are infiltrating into South Viet Nam on a daily basis and that the United States must be prepared to meet this challenge.

Planners to Hear State Official at Dinner Monday

The Ulster County Planning Board has called a special meeting to hear an address by Charles L. Crangle, director of the New York State Department of Commerce. The meeting will be a Dutch treat dinner, Monday, Nov. 29, at 7:30 at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Crangle's topic will be: "If I were a County Planning Board Member."

In addition to the Planning Board Members, invitations have been extended to several committee chairmen of the Board of Supervisors and representatives of the Mid-Hudson Patterns for Progress.

Crangle is well-known in planning circles in the Northeast. As executive secretary of the New York State Federation of Official Planning Organizations, he organized the highly successful two-day planning institute held in Niagara Falls in October which was attended by over 300 planners from all over the state, including Nassau and Suffolk Counties. His experience in planning covers service in New Hampshire, Tennessee and Philadelphia. He has written extensively on the subject for professional journals.

Representatives of Mid-Hudson Patterns for Progress who are expected to attend are: Walter Tampeke, general manager of I.B.M. Kingston; Herbert Shultz, of Kingston and Benjamin L. Webster, of Woodstock who is also a member of the Planning Board. This privately financed non-profit corporation has been organized to study the growth problems of the entire seven county Mid-Hudson Region. It is expected this organization will give cooperative help to county and municipal planning boards.

Representatives of the press and radio have also been invited to cover the meeting as guests of the Planning Board.

The Dutch dinner, will be preceded by a social get acquainted hour starting at 6:30.

The report today brought the total of U. S. casualties reported in nearly five years of fighting in Viet Nam to about 1,300 dead and about 6,000 wounded. Half the dead and a third of the wounded were cut down in the past three months as U. S. combat troops who began arriving in Viet Nam in February took a bigger and bigger part in the war.

Before February the American role in Viet Nam was an advisory one, coupled with providing helicopter and other air support for South Vietnamese units.

Telegrams Mean Sad Viet News—Home of Cavalry

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Residents of this west Georgia city are reminded often that Columbus is the home of Ft. Benning and the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division.

But it's not a pleasant reminder. Telegrams arriving almost daily from the Defense Department bring the sad news that soldiers from the base and the division are dying in the war in Viet Nam.

Unified in Sorrow
Perhaps no other city in the nation sees more of its population dwindle each week because of the fighting in Southeast Asia. On this Thanksgiving Eve, perhaps no other city is more unified in sorrow for its citizens.

Monday the Defense Department sent 11 telegrams to Columbus telling widows and parents their loved ones died in bitter fighting in the Ia Drang Valley last week.

Tuesday six more telegrams told of Columbus soldiers "killed in action."

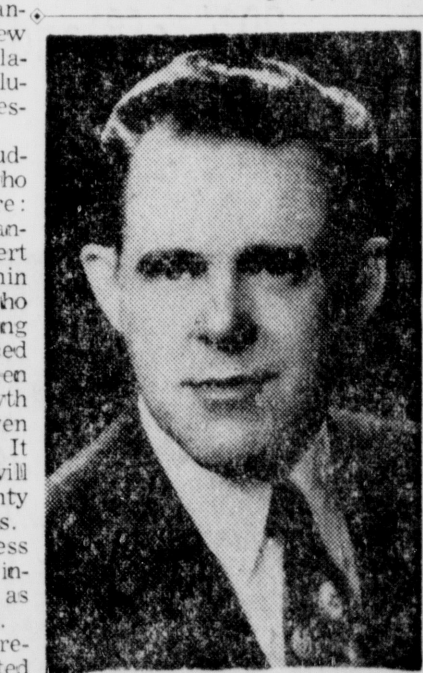

Today, a week ago Imogene Ferrell read of the heavy fighting by the 1st Cavalry at the foot of a mountain named Chu Pong in Viet Nam.

"I walked the streets all day," she said. "I don't know why I wasn't run over. When I got home, I tried to tell my children, 'You know your father is in the thickest fighting? He might not get back.'"

A list released by the Defense Department Tuesday of 39 men killed in the war read: "Sgt. William A. Ferrell, husband of Mrs. Imogene Ferrell, Columbus, Ga."

'Family Second to Army'
"He did everything for his family," she said. Then she smiled. "But we were second to the Army. A neighborhood boy called him the 'Old Sarge.'"

OCS Slates '66 Referendum For High School Expansion

A new building program to increase the capacity of Onteora High School from 900 to 1500 is being studied by the Onteora Central Schools District Board of Education.

Board president Philip Gordon said that on Nov. 16 detailed requirements were forwarded to the district architect to be included in the preliminary plans and estimates of cost.

It will take about six weeks to complete these plans and estimates of cost, Gordon said. The board will then review all proposals in terms of cost of each and finalize the referendum to be submitted to district voters.

It is expected that a referendum for the new construction will be proposed to the voters of the Onteora district early in 1966.

Gordon said board members have been active on the project since the release of the Citizens' Committee report in July detailing plans for construction and the referendum.

Reported in July

"Last July a very active Citizens

Committee, under the direction of chairman Chester Gade of Bearsville, completed a report of the building needs for grades 7-12," said Gordon.

"This committee has worked for months and after careful examination of enrollment, geographic conditions, existing school buildings, the curriculum and local finance, recommended that the board propose to district voters an addition to the present high school to increase its capacity from 900 to 1500," said Gordon.

Gordon said that since the formal acceptance of the Citizens Report, the Onteora board has reviewed the report carefully and is in the process of incorporating its recommendations with plans for new construction.

"The local high school has been crowded for the past several years as the school population increased each year," explained Gordon. "Temporary relief has been provided by assigning some seventh grade classes to the Woodstock school and by conducting classes in sub-standard classrooms."

Teachers Panel Discusses Math At OCS Meeting

Elementary teachers in the Onteora Central Schools District presented a panel discussion on the topic: "Modern Mathematics in the Elementary School" at the November meeting of the Onteora Board of Education.

Participating on the panel were Mrs. Helen Turck, Mrs. Ethel Donaldson, Miss JoAnne Bianco and Marion Blush, teachers. Ronald Vanni, director of elementary education, was moderator of the panel.

The discussion was one of the highlights of the Board of Education's monthly meeting at the West Hurley school.

Board President Philip Gordon told the large audience the board holds many workshops dealing with curriculum where the board reviews the role it can play in assisting the professional staff to make the academic program more effective.

In other business, the board canceled a tax levy of $759.44 against New York State land, since this property was purchased by the state for public campsite and is not taxable under the Real Property Law.

Title III Motion

The board was authorized to participate under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act apply for a planning grant in cooperation with MIFSSC, Research and Development Center.

Superintendent of Schools Sullivan explained that application for Title I funds had not been completed to date, as forms have not been received.

He noted that monies allocated will have a tremendous impact on education throughout the country. Copies of the district's proposal were distributed to board members.

The board voted approval of bus extension Route 41 for a distance of one mile on a per diem basis for the remainder of the school year 1965-66. Total cost is $87.50 and the carrier is Safety Schools Systems, Inc.

Following substitute teachers were approved for the remainder of the year: Lauren Carpinelli, $23; Sara Skolnik, $23; Joseph Trindle, $23; Carol Vigliemo, $23; Eileen Suhaka, $23 per diem.

New bus drivers approved for the remainder of the school year were Richard Becker for O. D. Vechile and William Schertfeger for Lake View, Inc.

Thanksgiving Service At Overlook Church

There will be a brief Thanksgiving service of scripture and prayer, Thursday morning, at Overlook Methodist Church at 9 a. m. The public is invited.

The sermon topic for the Sunday morning worship hour will be The Christmas People. A nursery is provided for infants and toddlers.

Tuesday, prayer groups for the women of the church meet 10 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Sahler; 11 a. m. at the home of Miss Dietz.

Sunday, Dec. 5, the Senior High MYF Sub-District Rally will be held at St. James Methodist Church in Kingston.

Friday, Nov. 26, the Senior High MYF will sponsor a round and square dance at the Wittenberg Sportsman's Club from 8 to 12 p. m. Music will be provided by Fred Russell and his band.

On Monday, Nov. 29, the Mendelssohn Club will present a choral program at 8:15 p. m. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the WSCS or at the door.

Sunday school at Overlook Church is held at 9:45 a. m. for second grade through adult classes, and at 11 a. m. for beginners through first grade.

MADISONVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Mayor David Parish says the people of Madisonville are "the luckiest in the world." For the last 11 years, the townspeople have paid no city tax of any kind. Madisonville operates its own light and water plants and derives enough income from these sources to meet all expenses of city government.

Shandaken Plant Resumes Baseball Bat Production

Operations at the White Mills Wood Products Co., on Fox Hollow Road off Route 9W, Shandaken, resumed some time ago at the former plant of the Clarence Dunham Lumber Co.

Van Quackenbush, foreman of the Shandaken plant, said the work shut down for six weeks last summer due to the lack of ash, which was used in making baseball bats. The company now produces handles, baseball billets (unfinished bats) and hardwood grade lumber.

The company has been in business in the Shandaken plant about two years, and presently employs nine workers.

New machinery was installed some time ago. Robert Miles of White Mills is owner of the local plant. He was formerly manager of a Pennsylvania firm, which is now not in business.

Athens to Build Sewage Treatment

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The City of Fulton and the Village of Athens say they will comply with a State Health Department order to end water pollution by constructing sewage treatment plants.

Athens agreed at a Health Department hearing here Tuesday to have a plant in operation by July 1, 1968. The Greene County community dumps its untreated wastes into the Hudson River, the department says.

Fulton agreed to end pollution of the Oswego River with untreated wastes by Nov. 1, 1967.

Disk-Co-Teens Elect Officers, Meet Dec. 1

The Disk-Co-Teens newly formed 8th grade group met November 10, at the Jewish Community Center. Twenty-two boys and girls enjoyed dancing, games and refreshments.

At their first meeting Nov. 17, the following officers were elected: Miss Rona Freeman, president; Miss Shelley Paster-nack, first vice president; Barry Gruberg, second vice president; Miss Esther Zwick, recording secretary.

After the meeting the Disk-Co-Teens were invited to watch a JUDO demonstration by Sal Guma and his assistant. A few of the group were asked to participate. Advisors to the group are Mrs. Martin Hammer and Mrs. Jack Parnett. The next meeting is scheduled for December 1, at the Jewish Community Center, which is a member of the Ulster County Community Chest.

Two Are Injured In 209 Mishap

A 76-year-old Stone Ridge woman and her husband were injured at 2:45 p. m. Tuesday when the 1954 sedan she was driving went out of control on Old Route 209 near the intersection of Route 209 and went into a ditch.

Trooper Fred Cooper of the Kingston substation reported Mrs. Mathilde Ernst was driving the car when she accidentally stepped on the accelerator instead of the brake. The car careened across the highway, left the east side and went into a ditch in a field.

Doctors ambulance took the injured to Benedictine Hospital. According to a report of Trooper Peter Bebenec, Mrs. Ernst suffered lacerations of the head, nose and left leg. Her husband, Frank, 77, sustained lacerations of the head and abrasions of the legs.

3 Cars Damaged In Vandal Tour

Local police were notified this morning of what appears to have been a tour of malicious mischief in the Elmendorf and Downs Street areas and at Colonial Gardens in which several cars were damaged.

A report at 7:35 a. m. noted that James Hummel of Colonial Gardens reported that aerials had been broken from several cars in the apartment house area and other reports indicated more extensive damage elsewhere.

Patrick Manfro, of 228 Elmendorf Street, reported that a convertible top of a 1965 Cadillac, owned by DeWitt Cadillac, had been damaged and windshield wiper broken off while the car was parked near Manfro's home. Damage was estimated at approximately $400.

Other reports: Frank Turner, of 219 Elmendorf reported a sideview mirror and windshield wiper on a station wagon was broken while it was parked near his home. The owner was listed as Chester Satz Inc., of 53 Market Street, Poughkeepsie. Richard Slizewski, of 117 Downs Street, reported a side-view mirror broken from his station wagon while it was parked near his house, and Mrs. F. B. Marquette, of 147 Downs Street, reported an aerial and windshield wiper broken from her car while it was parked on Downs Street.

One report indicated that the damage could have been done by three men who were riding in a black and red car.

Area Historic Group Works for Site Designation

The annual meeting of "Historic Stone Ridge" was held at the home of Mrs. Sherman Hasbrouck, president, Saturday, Nov. 20.

Plans for the coming year were projected for the furtherance of the organization's goal which is to have Stone Ridge designated as an historic site by the National Park Services of the Department of the Interior, U.S.A. The project is already under consideration by the Park Service after a personal presentation in Washington by Mrs. Hasbrouck.

"Historic Stone Ridge" is an active member of The National Trust For Historic Preservation.

Reported Passage Of Tax Map Plan Termed in Error

Supervisor Clarence C. Raichle (R), 12th ward, chairman of the Industrial Development Committee, pointed out today that in Tuesday evening's Freeman an item under "County Planners," the paragraph pertaining to a resolution being passed by the board of supervisors was in error insofar as to say it was "passed."

The resolution concerning a real property map and inventory record system was never on the floor or introduced to the board.

Copies of the resolution were presented to board members for study but no action was taken.

Raichle today said there would be a resolution presented at the next meeting concerning the above, requesting a study by Ulster County Planning Board of real property or tax base study map. No money is asked for in the resolution. Raichle said that it will take at least six months to come up with something practical that appeals to both sides of the aisle concerning a tax base or real property tax map.

Tillson Man Is Named to Post

Henri L. DeBlende of Tillson has been named superintendent steward of United States Lines.

He succeeds David C. Baldwin who has been named head of the newly created division of service and supply of the steamship company.

DeBlende joined the company in 1946 as an inventory clerk at the company's Chelsea piers. Over the years, he held increasingly responsible posts, including assistant to the superintendent steward in June, 1951, field steward and food analyst in October, 1956 and assistant superintendent steward in 1961.

For 16 years he served as an active seaman, including six years on United States Lines before coming ashore in 1946.

Film Showing Slated Friday at Ridge Hall

The film, Question 7, will be shown at the Stone Ridge American Legion Hall, Route 209, Friday 7:30 p. m.

A gripping, true story from behind the Berlin Wall, the film has won 22 international awards and has been lauded by Life magazine.

The public may attend the film showing at no charge.

UNEXPLORED PATHS

It is possible to have eyes fixed too firmly upon goals.

Measured against an ideal, present reality all too often strikes us as falling dismayingly short.

So it may be for Americans surveying their horizon on this Thanksgiving Day of 1965.

As individuals and as a nation we have set ourselves certain basic goals. We desire material well-being, yes. And as a nation and for most of us as individuals we have achieved this in abundant measure.

But more than this, we seek for ourselves, and wish as much for others, an orderly life in an orderly world where each individual may share in a common heritage of freedom and dignity.

Yet we look out upon a world in which violence and uncertainty are inescapable reality. Abroad there is political dissension and military conflict of uncertain duration and outcome. At home, a crisis in human relations weighs upon the national conscience with no end yet in sight.

Troubled by this reality, many understandably may sense a falseness in the ring of cheery words customary at this season. Unease is not unfounded. Yet that there is uncertainty in the future does not mean there is not also promise. That the goal is not attained does not mean there has been progress toward it.

The present may be imperfect and the future in question. But progress is measured by distance traveled, not how far there is yet to go. And measured by where we were even a year ago, there has been progress.

Wasn't this how it all started, with that tiny band of pioneers in a hostile New World so many years ago? Not fearful concern at what must yet be done, but humble thanksgiving for what had been achieved.

CARBON MONOXIDE

Although carbon monoxide poisoning is a year-round hazard, most cases occur in the fall and winter from faulty home heating units and automobile exhausts.

In New York State last year, there were 62 deaths from accidental carbon monoxide poisoning. All could have been prevented, according to State Health Commissioner Dr. Hollis S. Ingraham.

Carbon monoxide gas is produced by incomplete burning of any kind of fuel. It is colorless, tasteless, odorless and non-irritating. Prevention of carbon monoxide poisoning depends entirely on knowing the ways in which exposure to the gas can occur and avoiding them.

To lessen the danger in the home, the following precautions are advised:

Have home heating system checked annually by a reliable serviceman for proper flame adjustment, rusted vents, obstructions in chimneys and vents.

All hot water heaters should connect to a flue leading outside the home. All vents and flues should be checked annually.

Never use an oven to heat a room unless the oven is vented outside the house.

Do not use charcoal burners in unvented areas indoors.

To protect against carbon monoxide in a motor vehicle, keep a window or vent partly open, even in the coldest weather and never run the motor inside a closed garage or building. The exhaust system also should be checked for leaks because carbon monoxide can seep through the floor.

WORRY-MILL GRIST

Anyone who runs out of food for worry can restock by considering what is going to happen when the sun explodes. Astronomers now are disinclined to say "if" they seem disquietingly sure that Old Sol is indeed going to blow up.

A current statement of this view is set forth in the National Geographic by Dr. Herbert Friedman, superintendent of the Atmosphere and Astrophysics Division of the Naval Research Laboratory. He points

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

DID THE U.S. TAKE THE WRONG TURN?

The phrase, as used back in the Nineteen Thirties, was "technological tenuousness." It was employed by Stuart Chase and others of a technocratic cast of mind to describe the vulnerability of a civilization that depended on big power link-ups for its very source of being.

The years passed, and "technological tenuousness" was never very much in evidence. We fought a world war without important power failures. When there were brown-outs and black-outs, they were planned as part of government or military policy. No saboteurs managed to get to the generators or switches of our electrical grids.

And then it happened throughout a big area of the industrial northeast. "Technological tenuousness" became a reality for some twenty-eight million people at an absurd moment when the very phrase had been forgotten.

Driving from Kennedy International Airport a week after the big power collapse, I listened to a chauffeur who was something of a philosopher. He was expatiating on the automobile as a self-contained power unit. When the lights were out in the houses, and the trains and subways and elevators were almost universally stalled, the automobile went right on taking people home. What struck the philosophical chauffeur was the fact that Detroit could turn out eight million self-sufficient power units a year for travelling purposes, yet our vaunted industrial system could hardly account for a single self-sufficient home.

The irony of it is that it need not have been that way at all. We could have had self-sufficient homes along with self-contained automobiles. But we made a conscious decision a long time ago to accept "technological tenuousness" in our homes while rejecting it for daily travel.

Oddly, the very man who made the modern automobile possible by inventing the electrical starter was once hipped on the desirability of providing the American home with a cheap self-sufficient power plant. Back in 1913 Charles F. Kettering, the famous "Boss K" of General Motors, decided to give his mother, who was still living on the farm, a little surcease from the daily business of lighting kerosene lamps and putting wood in the stove. He took a small gasoline engine and hooked it up with an electrical generator capable of charging batteries with enough voltage to run a farm power plant on a continuous basis. The contraption worked so well that he formed a company to market the "Delco-Light" to farmers all over the country.

By 1916 the new Delco-Light Company was doing a business of two-and-one-half million dollars. The Kettering home-power unit was selling for $275. As many as forty thousand sets were sold in a single year.

What killed the business was the decision of the federal government to go in for rural electrification. With REA pushed into the countryside, carrying "technological tenuousness" to the forks of every creek, the hunger for Kettering's self-sufficient Delco-Light unit disappeared.

Did the U. S. take a wrong turn in abandoning the idea of the self-sufficient home? Who is to say? The warning that we have had from the big black-out throughout eight states of the industrial northeast and a portion of Canada is causing some sincere soul-searching among our big electrical service companies. They are planning the purchase of auxiliary emergency power units capable of picking up locally in case of national power grid failures. Evidently there are many ways of skinning the cat in this business of insuring against "technological tenuousness."

But what if, in the possible event of a devastating modern war, there should be a collapse of local auxiliary units in addition to a wreckage of a unified country-wide hook-up of systems? It could be that we will someday be lamenting the fact that the fame of Charles F. Kettering is connected with the self-sufficient automobile and not the self-sufficient home.

The DOCTOR SAYS

Animal Diseases Are Transmissible to Man

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

We know that many diseases in animals are transmissible to man (zoonoses) and that the reverse is also true. This was not even suspected until, following the invention of the microscope, it was proved that germs are the cause of many diseases. In some instances, animals act as a reservoir of these infective germs and, in others, man and animals alike succumb.

This fact has brought about a close kinship between physicians and veterinarians—especially those engaged in research. As new examples come to light the importance of this field of study increases. About 100 of these diseases are now recognized throughout the world, although not all of them occur in any one country.

The first zoonoses to be recognized as such were smallpox (it is the cowpox virus, not the smallpox virus that is used in smallpox vaccine), anthrax and rabies. The latter, once thought to be restricted to man and dogs is now known to infect a dozen or more animals including bats. Quickly added was tuberculosis, a disease found in caged birds, cattle that spend part of their time in barns and human beings who live in houses. Fresh air and sunshine are still potent weapons in the prevention and cure of this disease.

Brucellosis (known as Bang's disease in cattle, Malta fever in goats and undulant fever in man), Texas fever (in cattle and man), spotted fever and Q fever (type of typhus), encephalitis (brain fever in its several forms), psittacosis (parrot fever or ornithosis), leptospirosis, listeriosis, bubonic plague (in rats, squirrels and man), salmonellosis (common food poisoning transmitted by chickens and turtles), tularemia (rabbit fever), tapeworm, trichinosis, schistosomiasis (carried by pigs, dogs, cats and snails) and histoplasmosis (carried by birds) are some of the more common examples.

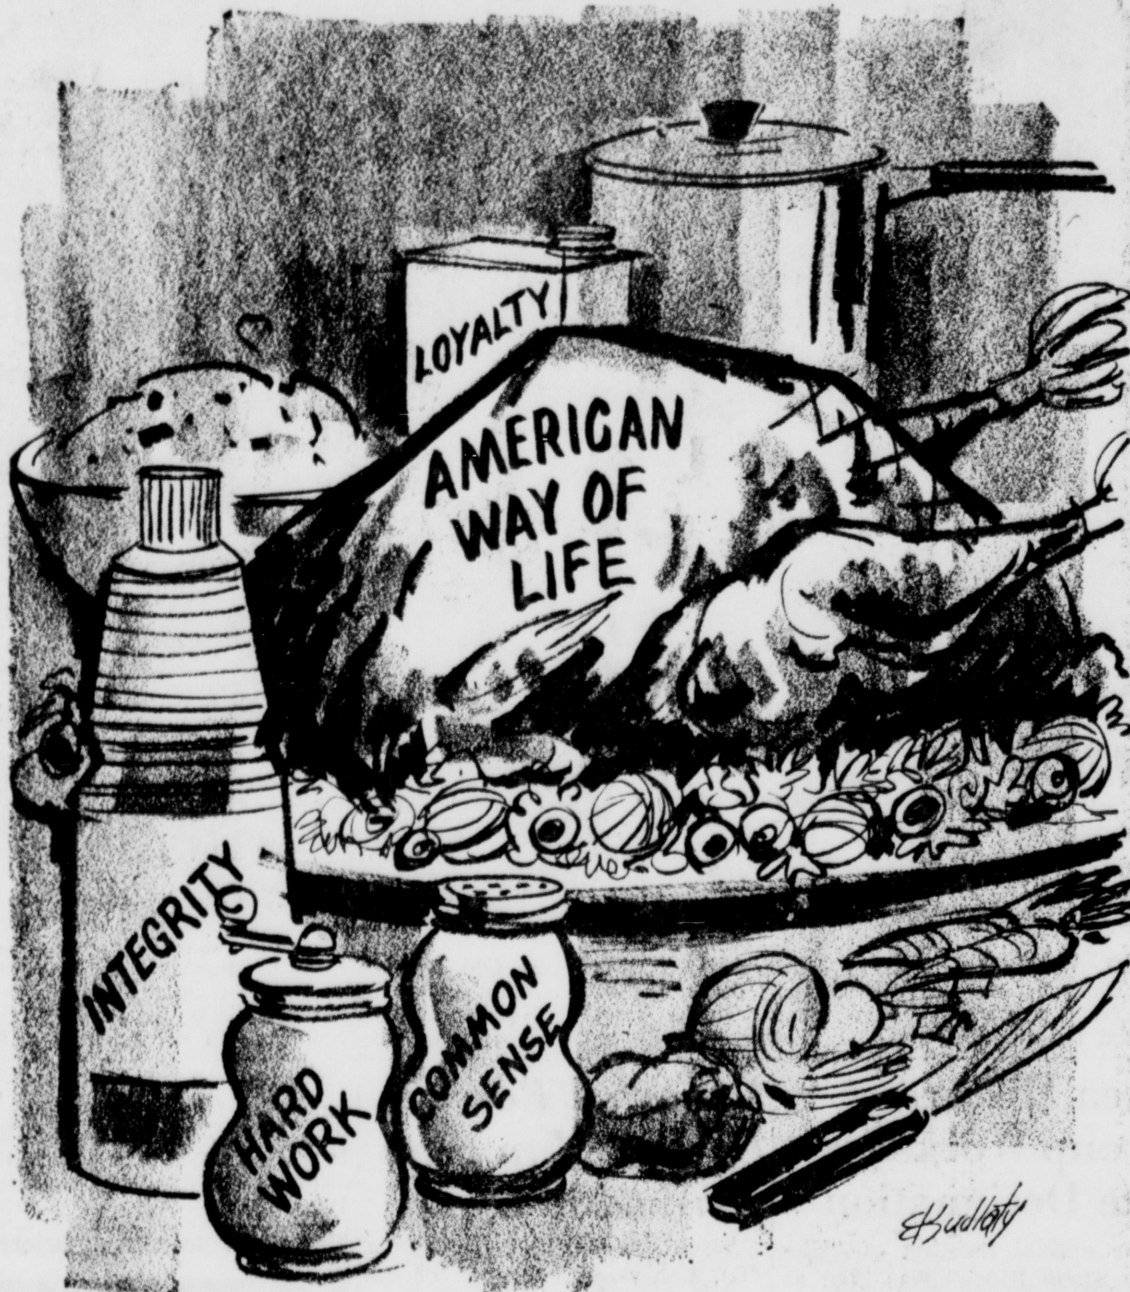

The study of animal diseases has led to the development of many drugs of value in treating zoonoses in man. An even more important aim of these studies is to find ways of preventing the transmission of these diseases from animals to man. These studies are yielding rich returns but they could never have been made without the help of dedicated members of the veterinary medical profession.

out that the sun is a sort of slow-burning hydrogen bomb, with the thermonuclear reaction progressing outward from the core. As the reaction gets closer to the surface, it is thought, the nuclear heat at the core also will move outward and greatly expand the sun's heat and light.

At this point we quote: "The sun will then become a giant red star like Antares (which is 36 million times bigger than the sun—ed.): It will blow up to a monstrous ball of extremely rarefied, red hot gas large enough to engulf Mercury, Venus, the earth and Mars, the four nearest planets."

So much for what is in store—a disaster cataclysmic enough to make such eventualities as war, famine and population explosion seem like picnic in comparison. Happily, the "when" of it takes the grim edge off the problem; scientists think the sun will not explode for five billion years or so. Still, the prospect makes nice grist for worry mills that have wearied of grinding on lesser troubles.

Washington News

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Fidel Castro's two million neighborhood informers discourage State Department officials who would like to see a revolution in Cuba.

The large spy organization (one Cuban out of four) is credited with a major role in the Bay of Pigs debacle. (The rapid roundup of dissidents fingered by these informers squashed hopes of an internal uprising.)

North Viet Nam and Red China have similar neighborhood informer systems. These have cost the lives of South Vietnamese agents and saboteurs sent to the north. They have caused the defeat of guerrilla units which Nationalist China's Chiang Kai-shek has infiltrated into mainland China.

New information on the Cuba organization has been brought in by refugees.

WHAT FOLLOWS are the words of a Cuban woman who lived for years in Havana under the thumb of one family of informers:

"There were two families of informers in my block.

"One lived right across the street. They were very poor people given the house of a doctor who had fled the country. The father shined shoes for a living. The woman was a laundress. The three daughters were in the militia; they dressed like men. There were also three small boys, the oldest about seven.

"Day and night you could see one member of the family or another standing in the house by the window, looking out and taking notes in a small notebook.

"They would record the comings and goings of the people in our block.

"Guests always left before 10 in the evening. We had learned that when anyone stayed after 10 the informers considered the meeting political and so reported it.

"If someone in the block took a package to mail, the informers would note it down.

"The informer family across the street had worked so efficiently that at the first signs of the invasion at the time of the Bay of Pigs, police moved in fast and took 13 men out of three of the 2 houses in our half-block. It took them only five minutes.

"THE CHILDREN INFORMERS were the worst. The seven-year-old boy across the street would hang around the grocery store watching what was going on as people queued up to buy food.

"One morning, as an 80-year-old woman stepped up to buy rice, the little boy shouted: 'Don't sell her another pound; she bought one this morning.' The boy shouted so long and loud the police came and took the woman to court.

"This boy used to spend much time standing around in peoples' yards in our block. He would wander around the houses trying to peek in and see what was going on. As we would sit in the dining room eating, we'd look out and see this boy or a little brother watching.

"WE USED TO GIVE the boys candy in the hope it would make them more friendly. But we stopped that after one conversation.

"I had asked the boy what he wanted to be when he grew up.

"He said no, that he was afraid that as a militiaman he might be poisoned by some anti-Castro-

"We began to worry that the boy might become sick after eating some of our candy and we'd be accused of poisoning him. After that, we gave him nothing."

A top U. S. priority must be the curbing of these neighborhood spy systems—whether in Red China, North Viet Nam or Cuba.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

The office was on the second floor. The white-haired Secretary of State, Mr. William H. Seward, walked the faded red rug in the corridor, his head up a little as he passed the office seekers who lounged in the White House, and a soldier opened the rosewood door to Abraham Lincoln's office.

The President sat at his pigeon-hole desk, writing slowly as always, thinking slowly and deliberately, and looking up through the lace curtains on the deep windows now and then. Mr. Seward presented a document. He and the President exchanged greetings, and then Lincoln read the short document and said: "Leave it. It's good. I'll sign it."

The day was October 5th, 1863, and the document was a Proclamation of Thanksgiving, the first to make the final Thursday in November a national holiday. It was written in the florid style of the times, calling upon the Deity with exaggerated adjectives, and citing in non-controversial terms all that America had to be thankful for.

The country was grateful for a year "filled with the blessings of fruitful fields and healthful skies." There were such bounties that "they cannot fail to penetrate and soften the heart which is habitually insensible to the ever-watchful province of almighty God."

"Order has been maintained, the laws have been respected and obeyed, and harmony has prevailed everywhere, except in the theatre of military conflict. No human counsel hath de- . . . not had any mortal hand worked out these great things. They are the gracious gifts of the most high God, who, while dealing with us in anger for our sins, hath nevertheless remembered mercy."

"I do, therefore, invite my fellow citizens in every part of the United States, and also those who are at sea and those who are sojourning in foreign lands, to set apart and observe the last Thursday of November next as a day of thanksgiving and praise to our beneficent Father who dwelleth in the heavens."

A. Lincoln.

It was an aspiration, not a reality. There are few presidential documents farther from the truth. Seward enjoyed making necklaces of glittering generalities. Lincoln's excuse for signing it was that he hoped it would all come true.

If the President, with his inherent honesty, had written that the Republic was in the throes of agony, but that God's grace had kept matters from being worse, he might have been on target. The fruitful fields weren't. Several millions of young men who should have been reaping in October 1863 were fighting. The fields were fruitful with the blood of the best and the worst of the young men, the noblest and the ruffians. Farms, north and south

U.S. Squeeze on Rhodesia— Tactics of President Hit

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Unprecedented things are happening today in the conduct of the government of the United States — but most people aren't paying any attention to it, and representatives of both parties in Congress are strangely silent.

Nowhere in the Constitution, for instance, is the President given the right to decide for himself with what countries trade shall be conducted or what tariff duties shall be imposed—unless Congress specifically authorizes such broad powers by legislation. Yet, over the past week end, the United States voted in the Security Council of the UN to call on Britain to "quell" the rebellion in Rhodesia. Then Ambassador Goldberg announced various economic measures decided upon by this government to carry out the purposes of the resolution. He declared that steps will be taken to tighten the economic squeeze on the Rhodesian secessionists and said that President Johnson had canceled Rhodesia's 1965 sugar-import quota of 9,500 tons—a shipment which already was on the high seas en route to America. Mr. Goldberg added:

"The President has suspended Rhodesia's sugar quota for 1965 and has directed that this shipment will not be accepted. We will continue to consider urgently any other steps which will ensure that no action is taken to assist the illegal regime in Salisbury, Rhodesia. The writing is on the wall. The misguided rebels in Southern Rhodesia would do well to heed the voice of the council and the voice of the vast majority of the nations of the world."

But coincidentally American boys are being killed or wounded in South Viet Nam as a result of attacks by the troops of the North Vietnamese government—a regime that is obtaining supplies and commodities through trading with many nations of the world. But nothing is being done here to cut off trade between the United States and such countries.

Also significant is the failure of the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to voice any criticism about the interference in Rhodesia's internal affairs such as he expressed about the use of United States forces during a rebellion in the Dominican Republic.

Not only was the action of President Johnson then denounced as an improper interference with the right of a people to determine their own kind of government, but it was argued that the United States had no business interfering with a revolution organized by the people. In the case of the Dominican Republic, of course, there was a violation of the Monroe Doctrine as well as a threat by Communists to take possession of the government. But no such circumstances or precedents of international law are involved in Rhodesia.

If the principle is accepted that the executive branch has absolute power in international affairs—despite the plain words of the Constitution that Congress shall have the power to "regulate commerce with foreign nations"—then the United States will again and again find itself in an awkward position with respect to policies pursued internally by various countries in the world.

The economic weapon can be a powerful one, and Congress absolutely would grant authority when an embargo would protect directly the interests of the United States. It is unlikely, however, that authorization would be given to pass judgment upon the internal policies of any country and to set up yardsticks to determine whether any government is or is not truly representative of the wishes of the people.

In the case of Rhodesia, Washington is doubtless motivated by a desire to please the British government. But even more it seeks to curry favor with the large number of Negro voters in this country whose prejudices are easily aroused by the statement that Negroes in Rhodesia are being victimized by a white minority. In Rhodesia itself, however, there are many Negroes who feel that the future economic welfare of their country is linked to the opportunities of the whites to direct the development of the nation's resources.

The truth of the matter is that the Rhodesian question is being handled here as a political issue. Fear of the Negro vote in this country is what is influencing not only the executive branch of the government but also many members of Congress who are keeping quiet as Washington tries to tell the people of another country what kind of government they must have. To see the economic power of the United States to meddle in the political affairs of a country in another hemisphere is unprecedented. The acquiescence of many people in a policy which reveals an avowed purpose to intervene in the internal affairs of Rhodesia is inexplicable.

But it will take careful shopping.

Ham Prices Up

Ham prices are up 4 cents a pound and other pork cuts 2 cents a pound in West Coast markets and in the Midwest, with seasonally scarce supplies.

Choice beef loin prices are down 2 to 4 cents, however, on the West Coast, and Northeastern markets are featuring beef ribs this weekend.

Egg prices are up 2 to 3 cents a dozen all across the country.

Broiler prices, however, are moving down.

Frozen fruits and berries are in short supply, and the frozen pie manufacturers are turning to peaches, which were more abundant this year.

Northeastern Buys

Northeastern shoppers will find broccoli, brussels sprouts, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, eggplant, onions, lettuce, oranges, grapefruit, apples and grapes this weekend.

Midwestern best buys include round, sirloin and porterhouse steaks, rump roasts, pot roasts, ground beef and stew meat, with carrots, cabbage, onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes and radishes.

Southwestern markets are featuring bananas, apples, oranges, grapefruit, onions, potatoes, grapes and leafy green vegetables.

Southeastern shoppers will find ham featured, along with celery, potatoes, sweet potatoes, apples, fresh cranberries, grapes and oranges.

West Coast shoppers will find butter prices higher. Turkey prices are up in California. Most vegetables are plentiful.

Moratorium Urged On Nuclear Missiles

NEW YORK (AP) — A high level citizens' panel on disarmament urges a three year Soviet-American moratorium on emplacement of anti-missile systems in a report disclosed today.

The 15-member panel, headed by Dean Jerome B. Wiesner of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, reasoned that this is a necessary step toward progress in nuclear disarmament.

It said the deployment of anti-missile systems will simply induce the two great powers to "step up their strategic weapon programs in an effort to ensure their respective 'deterrent' capabilities."

LANESVILLE NEWS

LANESVILLE—Mrs. Lindsay Hoyt and Mrs. Lorraine Hoyt of Mt. Pleasant visited Mrs. Stella O'Keefe and Mrs. Ronald Sickler Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Esther Krom of Allaben visited her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Quick Friday evening.

Dr. T. C. Lai, dean at the University of Hong Kong, is visiting the United States under a grant from the Carnegie Foundation to study the departments of general education in American universities. Dr. Lai, who has done translations from the Chinese for several of Michael Martin's anthologies, visited with the Martins in Lanesville this past weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Basil Barwell of Scarsdale, who met Dr. Lai in Hong Kong last year while on a world tour, came up to spend the weekend with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott R. Sickler of Jamestown are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter Monday, Nov. 15. She has been named Patricia Estella. Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Sickler are the paternal grandparents. Scott is spending time with his parents and is doing some hunting.

Beecher's Farm and Betty & Scott's boarding houses have quite a number of hunters over the weekends. At one time there were 13 deer shot by hunters at Betty & Scott's.

Why We Say--

11-24 VETO

GOVERNMENT: The word veto is often used in government legislation. However, it is a very strong word for democratic countries. The Latin means "I forbid." In the U.S. a veto does not have half of that power because even the veto of the President can be overruled.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Nov. 24, the 328th day of 1965. There are 37 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1859, Charles Darwin's revolutionary "Origin of Species" was published.

On this date

In 1877, the late senator and vice president, Alben Barkeley, was born.

In 1940, the puppet state of Slovakia joined the axis powers.

In 1941, the United States, under an intergovernmental agreement, sent troops to Dutch Guiana.

In 1942, the Germans were suffering heavy losses at Stalingrad.

In 1944, B29 Superfortresses raided Tokyo for the first time.

Ten years ago—Fifty-two men were marooned aboard the Texas Tower, a man-made island off the coast of Massachusetts, by heavy seas and high winds.

Five years ago—Secretary of the Treasury Robert Anderson and Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon were in Europe discussing the problem of balance of payments.

One year ago—Twenty to 30 hostages, including American medical missionary Paul Carlson, were killed by rebel soldiers in the Congo.

Chairmen Named For CP Telethon, Set Dec. 18-19th

Chairmen of this year's sixth Christmas telethon for Cerebral Palsy have been appointed by Gerald B. Fitzgerald, president of the United Cerebral Palsy Association of the Capital District.

The chairmen of the telethon, which will be televised by WTEN Dec. 18 and 19, are Lewis A. Swyer and James K. Patrick. Both men served as chairmen last year.

In addition to Swyer and Patrick, co-chairmen are: Transportation, Walter H. Kositska; Volunteers, Mrs. Joan Norrish and Frank M. Golden; Finance, Henry W. Jarvis and Richard A. Kimmerer; Crowd Control, William C. Falle and William J. McEnaney; Sports, Ben M. Becker and Bob McNamara; Reception, Kathy Monahan; Special Advance Gifts, Jack Goldman; Refreshments, Rocco Pirro and E. David Jacques; Production Desk, Peter J. McKenna and Howard C. Nolan Jr.; Check Room, Mrs. Robert Frey, Mrs. Milton J. Blass and Mrs. Charles Reed; Pledge Punchcard Systems, William A. Williams, Ellis T. Riker, Howard M. Kahn, Marvin Plateis and Miss Jean Holbrook; C. P. Children, Mrs. Dorothy Crugnale. Swyer, an Albany contractor, and Patrick, a Troy automobile dealer, were asked to lead the telethon because of the "outstanding ability they have shown in taking the Christmas telethon beyond $150,000," Fitzgerald said.

The telethon, held at the Washington Avenue Armory, will be broadcast over WROW radio as well as on TV. Funds raised through the program are shared by the United Cerebral Palsy Association of the Capital District, Mohawk Valley, Ulster County, Berkshire County, Schenectady and Glens Falls.

Now in its sixth year, the telethon was conceived by the area chapter as a means of raising funds for the work.

Aided by volunteers from area organizations, telethon workers stage an around-the-clock program of entertainment, featuring a number of nationally-known and local personalities. Stars of the next telethon have not yet been announced.

Last year the cerebral palsy telethon collected more than $150,000 for the first time in its six-year history.

Sir Walter Scott was the first great writer of English historical novels.

Time Element Different for U.S., Vietnamese

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — In Viet Nam the clock stands still and there is no repairman in sight. Time is not the same thing to a Vietnamese and a go-go American.

The American, anxious for an end to the killing, is baffled by the war's slow pace, the lack of any sign the North Vietnamese Communists want to talk peace.

Been Around Longer

But the Vietnamese as a people have been around longer than Americans and they learned to wait through centuries of trouble. They were in Southeast Asia before the Christian era.

The Chinese, taking them over in 111 A.D., held them in vassalage more than eight centuries before the Vietnamese shook loose. Meanwhile, through the centuries, they warred among themselves.

They defeated the armies of Kublai Khan in the 13th century, were taken as a colony by the French in the 19th and held about three-quarters of a century.

Drove Out French

The Japanese drove out the French in World War II and the Vietnamese, under the Communist leadership of Ho Chi Minh, became fighting the French return in 1945 and never stopped until they crushed the French in 1954.

No wonder the North Vietnamese, with this endless history of waiting and dragged-out fighting, are not pleading for peace because the United States bombs them and steadily builds up its forces in a ground war.

Perhaps some U.S. officials, who made quick survey trips to Viet Nam in recent years and came back drenched in optimism, also are baffled that they could be so ludicrously wrong.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara made a number of trips to Viet Nam, several times returned with rosy forecasts, and as late as January 1964 predicted U.S. forces could be withdrawn by the start of 1966.

He added: "I do not believe we as a nation should assume the primary responsibility for the war." That was before the United States got fully into the war and took on the responsibility.

Forces 'Increase

As for his prediction on the withdrawal of U.S. forces: now the United States has at least 160,000 men there, within a few months may have 200,000.

For weeks there has been buzzing about whether the Communists might have been willing to talk peace and whether President Johnson muffed the chance. Last April he proposed peace talks, without any prior conditions for starting them.

But Ho Chi Minh has just made hash of the suggestion.

The Red Chinese Tuesday quoted him as saying there can't even be a start to such talks until all American forces are withdrawn from Viet Nam. This would mean American surrender to the Communists, a defeat.

Thus, while Johnson said there did not have to be prior

Port Ewen School Pupils Collect Viet Nam Gifts

Students of Room 22, Port Ewen School are sending gifts, books and cards to the soldiers in Viet Nam.

It is hoped that items will be assembled and on their way by Friday, Dec. 3. Anyone wishing to give donations may bring them to the Port Ewen School. William H. Grune, sixth grade teacher, or Robert Graves, principal may be contacted for more information.

The gifts may be such things as sewing kits, paperback books, small games and other items. The students are also collecting small unbroken toys for the soldiers to give Vietnamese children.

41-Year Help Ends

SEDGWICK, Kan. (AP) — Lillian Tear is quitting next Tuesday as librarian in this town of 1,130.

"I was just a housewife," she says. "They needed someone to run the library, so I took it. It has never been a job. I've loved every minute of it. In fact, I served without pay the first 17 years."

The day they picked Mrs. Tear as librarian was in 1924. She will be 90 on Dec. 17.

Valatie Boy Killed

conditions, Ho Chi Minh laid down conditions — the withdrawal of all American forces. At this moment there is nothing in sight but a war dragging on.

LBJ Puts Emphasis On World Problems

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)

— President Johnson, busy at sharing fresh domestic programs, is laying the groundwork for broadened attention next year to world problems.

Because Viet Nam has demanded so much concentration on his part, Johnson has not had the time in the last few months to cradle in depth with the threat of the weakening of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization posed by French President Charles de Gaulle's nationalistic policies.

While there can be no presidential relaxation of supervision of the Viet Nam effort, on the basis of the massive legislative program passed by the first session of Congress, it appears the President may be able to relegate some domestic issues to lower priorities.

Add Pine Hill Phone Exchange To Dial System

ALBANY—The Public Service Commission this week authorized tariff amendments of New York Telephone Company resulting from discontinuance of its manual Pine Hill exchange and inclusion thereof in the territory served by the new dial-operated and enlarged Fleischmanns exchange in Delaware, Greene and Ulster Counties.

The proposed revisions, effective December 5, provide for combining the present Fleischmanns and Pine Hill base rate areas and would produce a net reduction in annual revenue of $382, consisting of total decreases of $1,051 and total increases of $669.

The proposed changes would result in monthly savings of from five cents to $2.75 for 75 subscribers and in increases to only 13 of the 781 subscribers in the two exchanges. Anticipated savings to subscribers located in the new base rate area average

$1.20 per month while increases due, in each instance, to upgrade, approximate 35 cents monthly, of service.

Pfc. Braveboy Is Just That, Hides 7 Days From Reds

PLEIKU, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. helicopter plucked a wounded American soldier from the Ia Drang Valley jungle today after he had hidden there for seven days from North Vietnamese troops.

Pfc. Toby Braveboy, 24, of Coward, S.C., underwent a 30-minute operation at a U.S. field hospital in Pleiku for multiple bullet wounds.

He was pronounced in satisfactory condition tonight.

Braveboy was gunned down during the ambush of the 7th Cavalry Regiment's 2nd Battalion early Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 17.

A scout helicopter was flying over the valley in the central highlands this afternoon when the crew saw a man waving his tee shirt.

They swooped down and picked him up.

Braveboy was wounded in the chest, arms and hands. Maj. Philip Warner of Los Angeles operated on him.

"Braveboy was quite dehydrated and emaciated," said Warner, "but his medical condition was good. The amazing thing about this from a medical point of view was that he was not in worse shape."

Jazz Festival Out

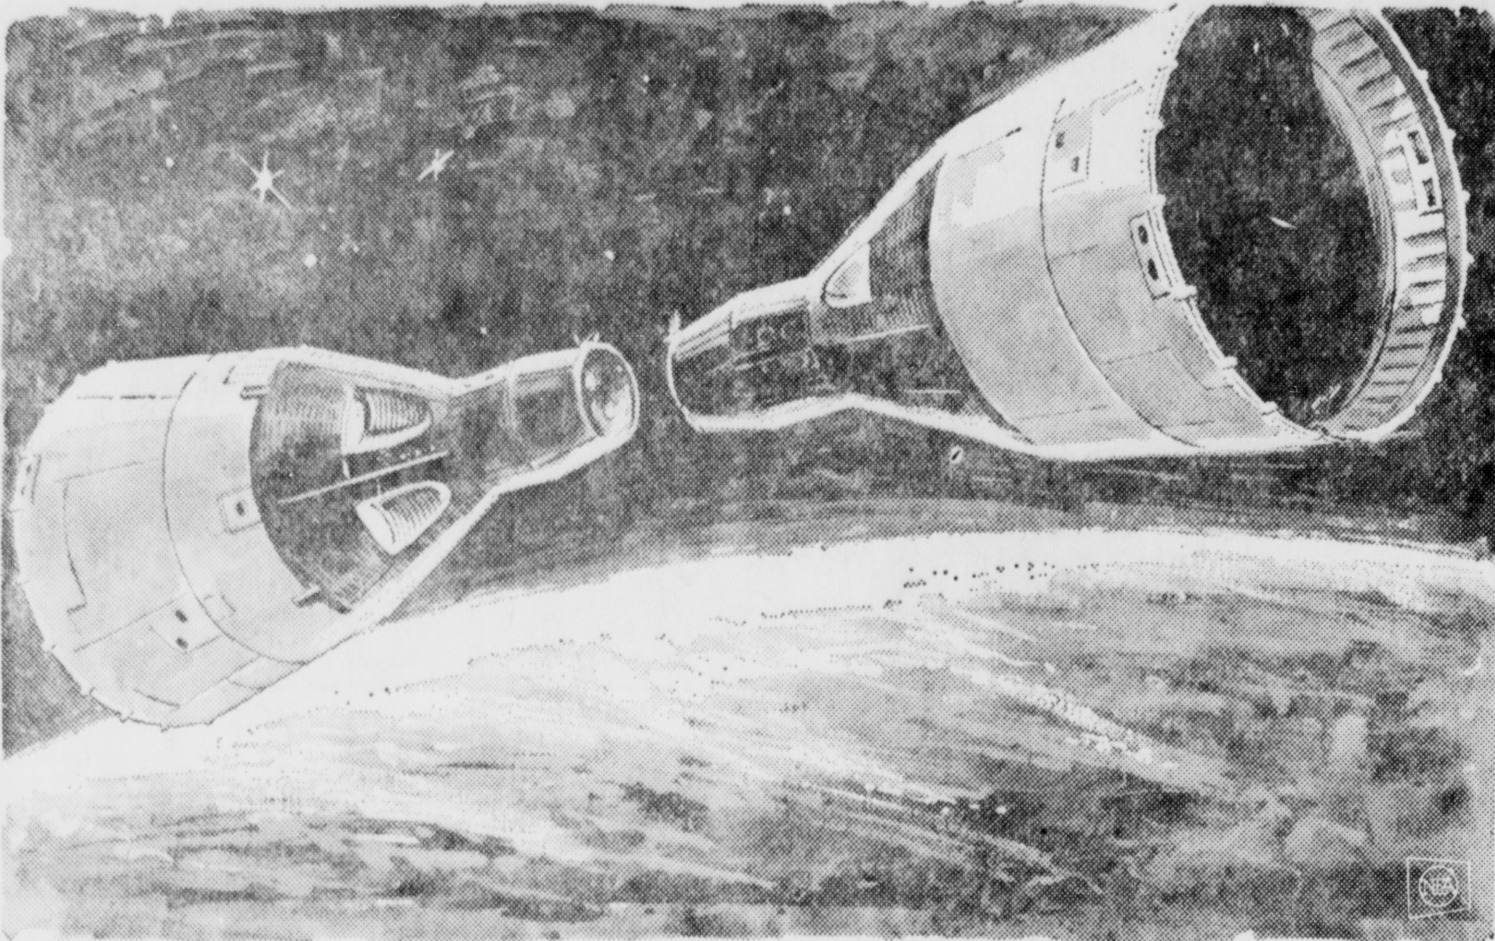

MIDDLETOWN, N.Y. (AP)—The Middletown Town Council has refused to grant a zoning change that would permit the Newport jazz and folk festivals to be held at Middletown in an area now zoned for residences.

Premotor George T. Wein recently purchased a 104-acre site and proposed to bring the two festivals to Middletown. But the council turned down Wein's petition for a zoning variance.

Ex-Dorphan Judge Dies

MIDDLETOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Chaffield T. Bates, 76, a Schenectady city judge for 24 years, died Tuesday at Horton Memorial Hospital here.

Bates, a Republican, served four consecutive six-year terms from 1933 to 1957.

NOSING AROUND IN SPACE—This artist's conception shows how America's four "Spirit of '76" astronauts will try to get their Gemini spaceships orbiting in nose-to-nose formation, only a foot or two apart. There will be no attempt at docking. The Gemini-7 capsule, with astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell, Jr., aboard, will be launched on a 14-day endurance mission on Dec. 4. Gemini-6, with astronauts Walter M. Shirra and Thomas E. Stafford, will follow it into orbit and hoped-for rendezvous Dec. 13. Gemini-6 will return after a two-day orbit.

Water Damages Walls of Library

Extensive water damage to the walls and shelving of the main building of the Kingston Library was a major topic of discussion at a recent meeting of the local library's Board of Trustees.

Officials reported that the roof of the building was in such a state of disrepair that contractors submitting estimates recommended replacement of the entire roof.

Water from numerous leaks in the library's roof has gradually eroded the fasci and molding on the walls of the library's main reading rooms. In addition, water succeeded in getting between the walls, resulting in peeling paint and falling plaster.

Don Sager, library director, explained that the Board had been requesting funds from the City of Kingston for repair of the roof for many years. Unfortunately, the funds which could have corrected this problem before it became serious and expensive, were never provided, he said.

Warren Official Dies

CORINTH, N.Y. (AP)—DeWitt C. Tremaine, chairman of the Warren County Board of Supervisors, died today in Adirondack Regional Hospital. He was 65.

Tremaine, a Republican, had been a supervisor of the Town of Stony Creek since 1954 and chairman of the county board for two years. He did not seek reelection this month.

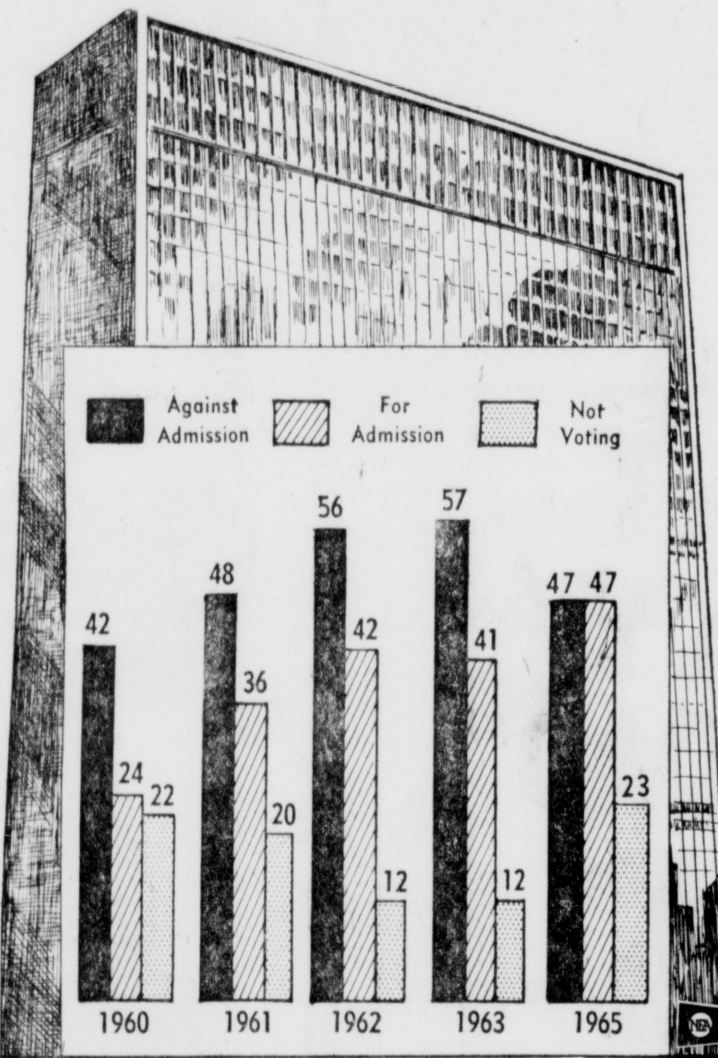

Tremaine had been an auditor and adjutant for the Chase Manhattan National Bank in New York City. Recently he was the owner and operator of a resort at Stony Creek.

He was a native of Kalkaska, Mich., and a graduate of Ohio State University.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—A new center for studies in American history will be established at Harvard University in memory of the late Charles Warren, Washington lawyer and historian of the Supreme Court.

Scientists experimenting with hay-fever dogs report that antihistamines fail to help them.

U.N. BARS RED CHINA—The United Nations General Assembly has rejected Communist Chinese membership in the world body for the 15th time, but by the closest vote ever. In a tie vote, 47 nations favored admission for the largest tally and the closest to a simple majority the Peking regime has yet recorded. The 47 votes against marked the first time backers of Nationalist China have fallen below a majority. The issue was decided by 23 nations not participating—20 abstaining, two not voting and one absent. In an earlier vote, the Assembly decided 56 to 49 with 11 abstentions that the issue was an "important question" requiring a two-thirds rather than a simple majority for approval. Chart above shows the trend of voting in the last five times the issue has come up. There was no vote in 1964 when the Assembly was stalemated by the Soviet-American dispute over U.N. finances.

Blast Kills 10

ALBI, France (AP)—Ten miners were killed and two others were missing today after an explosion at the Carmaux coal mine in south-central France. Rescuers recovered 10 bodies and pressed a search for the missing who were believed trapped near the mine face. The blast, believed to have been caused by coal dust, ripped through the mine about 700 feet below the surface two hours after the men went down to work on a mine face at the end of a long gallery.

Couple Surprise Burglar; Leaves With Cash, Jewels

A burglar was surprised in the act of ransacking the home of an Ellenville jeweler and was frightened away, but not before he picked up a pocketbook containing a "considerable amount" of cash and jewelry.

Milton Rothblatt, of 183 Canal Street, that village, told The Freeman he and his wife left their home Tuesday night at about 9:30 p. m. and returned about 15 minutes later. "As I entered the house," Rothblatt said, "I heard a noise in the kitchen. I went into the room and found the window open."

Rothblatt said the noise apparently was caused by the intruder as he made a getaway through the window, which had been forced open after ripping the screen.

The jewelry store owner said the pocketbook belonging to his wife had been left by her in the kitchen before they went out because they didn't intend to stay away from home for any length of time. He said the pocketbook contained jewelry and cash.

Rothblatt did not give any estimate of the value of the missing gems or cash.

A village police officer would give no details of the burglary. "Call later in the day," he said.

416 Summonses

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Since July 1 when a new law went into effect, state and local police have issued 416 summonses to Connecticut teenagers found possessing alcoholic beverages while operating motor vehicles.

The action has resulted in 323 formal hearings and suspension of 261 licenses for periods of 30 to 60 days.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Both consumers and the government are stepping up spending plans and taking over the role of economy-nudger that tax cuts played in months past.

This helps lift some of the worry that was felt earlier when the effects of the tax cuts were wearing off. Economy pushers began to look around for something else with which to keep the pace from slackening.

Things Changing Again
Now things are changing again.

Intentions of buying big ticket items are reported considerably more widespread among the public this fall than a year ago or even earlier this year. This means that the consumers will be pouring more money into the economy where the effect is most quickly felt — at the retail level.

The U.S. Treasury also is now pouring money into the economy at a faster rate than it's taking it out. Earlier in the year the unexpected rise in tax collections kept the Treasury's cash books in the black. This fall they're moving back into the red.

This means that government money is going to industry for goods and services, and to the states, institutions and individuals faster than the Treasury is getting money back through tax collections at this season of the year. This outpouring is classified as a spur to the economy.

Industry also is doing its bit in making everything bigger and better. Its expansion plans grow steadily. Its high rate of operations makes larger markets of raw materials, more jobs, more sales, more profits — and more borrowing.

Work on Psychology
The job increase, and wage increases, seem to be working on consumer psychology. The Commerce Department reports a survey of consumer planning a month ago showed more people convinced their incomes would rise than were found in a July opinion sampling.

This apparently led more to say this October they expected to buy new cars, appliances, televisions etc., and other household big ticket items than were found with such intentions either in July or a year ago. Increased government spending comes from many sides. The biggest boost is for the items needed to outfit and maintain a growing military force in Viet Nam.

Problem to Reverse
One big drain on the U.S. Treasury in recent weeks was the lump sum poured out in retroactive Social Security payment hikes. But the Treasury will have a reverse problem after the first of the year. While regular Social Security payments will stay higher, Treasury collections will rise. Both the workers and the employer will be paying in more — the year's collection by the Treasury for this pension and insurance plan is expected to rise by $3 billion next year.

Hints From Heloise

by Heloise Cruse

Dear Gals:

Every time I write the word "net," I know you laugh because I use it so much... not only the word, but the net, too! And for your information, I have never gotten a free yard, nor do I own any stock, nor do I have any interest in any net business!

For those of you who have electric dishwashers:

Make a nylon net dish bag about six-by-22 inches. Put a drawstring in one end.

Use this to hold all those little things that usually fly up, then go zooming to the bottom of your dishwasher, and which you can't find until you empty the trap in the bottom. (Yes, dishwashers do have cleaning traps. Look at yours. This may be one reason your dishes aren't getting clean. Many women don't know this!)

I put small jar lids, tiny spoons, corn holders, chopsticks (Oh, it's great for those), and anything that might fall through the shelf or go through the silverware basket, or just "take off."

I wouldn't trade anything for my net bag.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

To clean drainboard and bathroom tile, I use my favorite powdered cleanser, an old tooth brush, and, on very stubborn areas, bleach.

I start with a small area, sprinkle powdered household cleanser on that area, wet slightly and brush the grouted joints. If stains do not wash off, I pour a small amount of undiluted bleach and brush again.

L. Wright

Dear Heloise:

With a new baby in the house, and a large supply of cotton swabs to go with her, I've found a new use for the swabs.

They are excellent to clean in that small service of plasticware lids. Just dip the swab in the dish water, then give one swipe around the lid, and throw away the swab.

B. J. Chancellor

Dear Heloise:

In the event that your breakfast coffee is a trifle too weak, add one coffee scoop of good instant coffee to the grounds in the basket, perk a couple minutes more, and serve—now it's richer—and should open your eyes.

Now you can read the newspaper, and turn to Heloise for helpful hints—this is a daily ritual I wouldn't miss.

Mrs. D. S.

DEAR HELOISE:

My dinette set has plastic-type backs on the chairs.

These eventually split or tear, and it doesn't take very long for them to get quite raggedy-looking.

To buy six covers (which come with seat covers that I didn't need), was too expensive, so I bought inexpensive polka-dot printed pillow cases, cut them in two, crosswise and hemmed them.

They fit most dinette chairs perfectly, and it's very simple if you can't sew well—anyone can hem, either by hand or machine.

By using both ends of the pillow cases, you end up with two sets of chair covers—one set with a solid color border, and the other just the print.

It really works great!

Jon

Dear Heloise:

I feed baby the yolks of eggs only, and find I can freeze four of the whites in a small, baby food jar, or seven in a junior food size.

Great for angel food cakes later.

Jan Befort

Dear Heloise:

My daughters and I correspond with several people in foreign countries.

Instead of using the regular air-mail stamps, we always buy the latest commemoratives and use them on our letters.

If the person to whom we are writing is not a stamp collector, we can be sure he knows someone who is.

The appreciative thanks we receive, in return, is well worth the little effort it takes.

Make sure the proper amount of postage is affixed to the envelope!

Mrs. M. M.

Work Plus Worship

CHICAGO (AP)—"Service in the world ratifies our service in the sanctuary," the Rev. Michael Daves writes in the Methodist magazine, Together, but he challenges the argument that it makes no difference whether a person goes to church or not so long as he lives right. "Worship at stated times . . . affects our lives in the world," he says. Worship "reminds us that God has claimed us for himself," and "in worship we are called to give the only acceptable gift to God, ourselves."

Eisenhower Feels No Ill Effects From Train Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has suffered no ill effects from his train trip to Washington and will have a turkey dinner at the hospital Thursday with his immediate family.

A Walter Reed Army Hospital spokesman said today "Gen. Eisenhower is on a regular diet. A progressive increase in his activities, now limited to sitting up in a chair periodically, is planned over the next week."

The 75-year-old five-star general, who suffered a heart attack 15 days ago in Georgia, was examined Tuesday night and this morning by doctors and his respiration, blood pressure and pulse remain stable, the hospital said.

Methodists Revolt

LEEDS, England (AP) — Methodists who oppose plans for their Church's reunion with the Church of England have formed a Methodist Liaison Committee which aims at reversing the decision at next year's Methodist Conference. The group claims about 50 per cent of British Methodists support it and warns that "if union is urged on the present Catholic lines . . . the Conference must bear the responsibility if the division in the church ensues."

Lt. Col. E. J. Costello, chief of public information for the hospital, said "anticoagulant therapy will be continued as will medication to control the heart rhythm."

Costello said Eisenhower is in good spirits and already has sat up in a chair in his VIP hospital suite. He said the chair sitting is periodic.

Eisenhower was brought to Washington Tuesday from Ft. Gordon, Ga., by train and transferred to Walter Reed by helicopter, ambulance, and wheel chair.

Dr. Thomas W. Mattingly says indications are that his patient will be able to walk around in about two weeks.

Judge Not Convinced

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — "Always watch your step when walking on stairs," read one entry in a Cub Scout safety poster contest.

James Scheiner, 35, judged the poster one of the winners. Then he descended some stairs at a school. He missed one, fell and fractured an ankle.

"I was lighting a cigarette at the time and wasn't paying attention," he said Tuesday.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Fifteen physicians who recently left Cuba are among 150 Latin doctors starting a three-month postgraduate course at the University of Miami.

The 15 who joined the exodus from Camarioca joined 110 other Cuban refugees and 25 from eight Latin-American countries for studies at the School of Medicine.

If they pass, they can apply for internship or residency training in any U.S. hospital.

Lindsay Selects First Negro as N. Y. Fire Boss

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert O. Lowery, who started as a fireman in Harlem 25 years ago and advanced to deputy commissioner, has been selected by Mayor-Elect John V. Lindsay as the city's first Negro fire commissioner.

Lindsay, who takes office Jan. 1, announced at a news conference Tuesday that he will appoint Lowery to the $30,000-a-year post.

The selection is the first appointment at the commissioner level announced by Lindsay, who was elected mayor on a fusion ticket Nov. 2.

Lowery, 49, told newsmen after the conference that he had voted for City Comptroller Abraham D. Beame, Lindsay's chief opponent, in the mayoral race.

"The congressman never asked me how I voted, and I never told him," Lowery said with a smile.

A newsman asked Lindsay what he looked for in his selection of a fire commissioner.

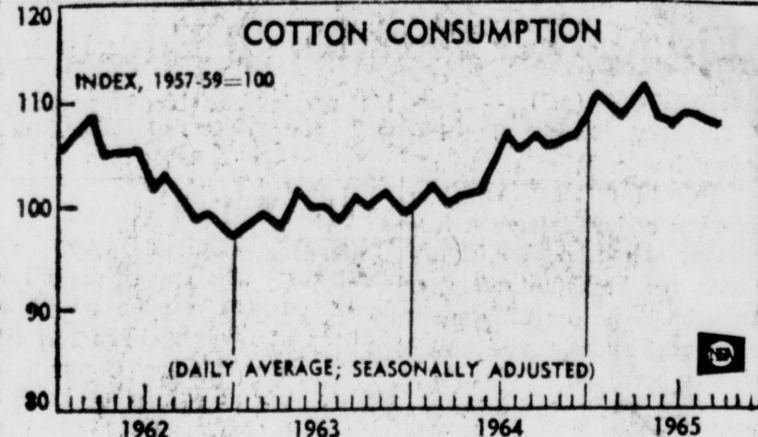

"The best fireman," he replied with a smile.

Machinists to Return

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Machinists return to work today at American Laundry Machinery Industries after ending a 13-day strike with their approval of a three-year contract.

Members of Local 2176, International Association of Machinists AFL-CIO, voted Tuesday to accept the pact, 232-42. About 500 machinists went on strike Nov. 11 after their two-year contract had expired.

The new agreement calls for the wage increases totaling 23 cents an hour over three years. Andrew Radley Jr., senior business representative of District 6 in the association, said. The average plant wage rate was $2.85 an hour.

COMEBACK—While fairly stable over the past five years, cotton consumption figures have reached two high peaks during the current year.

Rail Traffic Resumes

NEWARK, N. Y. (AP) — Rail traffic on the main line of the New York Central system has been resumed after the derailment of 34 freight cars near here disrupted service for 13 hours.

Repair crews completed Tuesday night the linking of preassembled track sections to form a spur around the derailed cars.

Railroad officials said a broken part in a truck on a hopper car caused the derailment earlier in the day near this community, 30 miles east of Rochester. The 130-car train was enroute from Buffalo to New York City.

Eric Passes Budget

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Led by a Republican majority, the Erie County Board of Supervisors has approved a 1966 county budget of $109,396,069, an increase of $2,862,666 over the appropriation this year.

Aided by one Democrat, Republican supervisors succeeded Tuesday in passing their budget proposal, 28-23, after defeating an earlier Democratic proposal, 27-23.

Increases at every level "are inevitable as the cost of services and labor must necessarily rise," Majority Leader Lester S. Miller said of the new budget.

CAPRICE

BY CHEVROLET

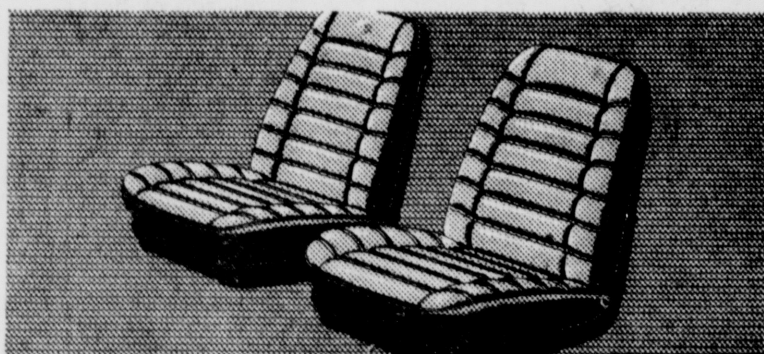

'66 Caprice Custom Coupe—with formal roof line that comes on no other car

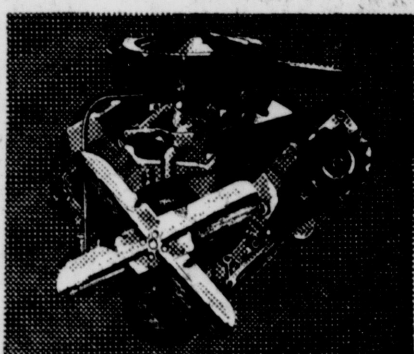

A whole new series of elegant Chevrolets with a whole new choice of features even some of the most expensive makes don't offer

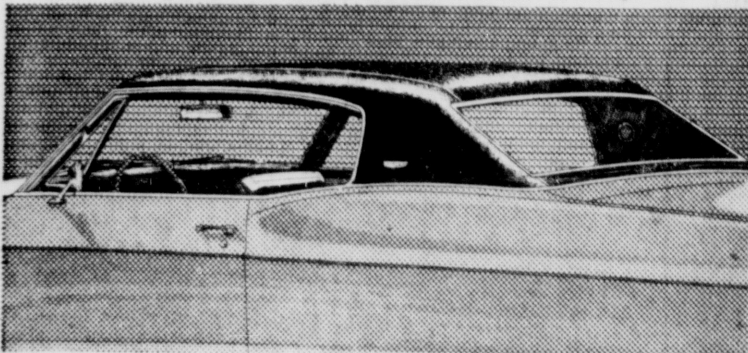

Specially instrumented console, with the rich look of walnut and a carpeted storage locker, is available for the Custom Coupe

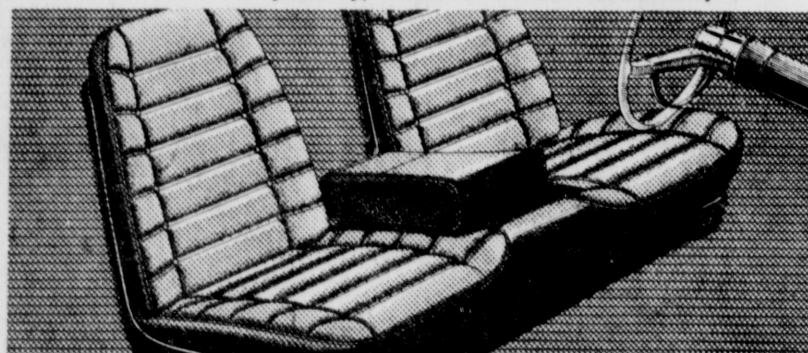

Strato-bucket seats, featuring tapered backrests and thick contoured padding, come with console shown at left

New Turbo-Jet V8's are available in all four models with up to 425 hp

Vinyl-clad roof can be ordered in your choice of black or beige to grace either the Custom Coupe or Sedan

Strato-back front seat, available in Custom Coupe and Sedan, has bucket-like contours and center armrest that folds up for third person

New Standard Safety and Convenience Features

- Seat belts, front and rear • Padded instrument panel and sun visors • Outside rearview mirror (always use it before passing) • Shatter-resistant inside rearview mirror • Windshield washers • Two-speed electric wipers for better visibility in heavy rain or snow • Back-up lights

Plus all these you can add

- Traffic Hazard Warning System (flashes both front and rear turn signals as a warning in emergencies) • Automatic Speed and Cruise Control (helps you stay within speed limits) • Rear-window defroster • Positraction rear axle (for better traction in snow, mud, sand)

All told there are 200 ways you can pile luxury upon luxury in the '66 Caprice. And that includes creature comforts like FM stereo and front-seat headrests.

But the beauty of it is that a Caprice, before you add the first extra, is luxurious above and beyond any other Chevrolet you've seen—and luxurious above and beyond many a more expensive make, too.

There are four Caprices for '66. Two Custom Wagons, and a Custom Coupe and Sedan with the look of burnished walnut and the comfort of deeply quilted upholstery in their Body by Fisher interiors. Throughout the series, the attention lavished on detail is evident—right down to the gentleness of the ride that comes from giving each body style its own specially tailored Full Coil springs.

Is this your year to move up? Your Chevrolet dealer is now ready to move you up about as far as you could want to go.

Dutchess Woman Is Given Life For Mate's Death

Convicted of the first degree murder of her husband by an all-male jury last month, Mrs. Jean Bach, 39, of 7 Rogers Place, Hyde Park, today was sentenced by Dutchess County Judge John R. Schwartz to life imprisonment.

Mrs. Bach, authorities said, will be eligible for parole in 27 years.

She was found guilty of slaying her husband, Alfred A. Bach, 40-year-old Poughkeepsie IBM plant employee last May 5. The woman was accused of firing three shots from a .38 caliber revolver into the body of her husband during a heated argument in their home.

Judge Schwartz said the imposition of sentence was "an unpleasant task" for him, but was one mandated under the law for first degree murder.

Asked by the court if she had anything to say before sentence was imposed, Mrs. Bach said her attorney would speak for her. The defense attorney told Judge Schwartz that he and his client would remain mute.

After she was sentenced, the Hyde Park woman wiped tears from her eyes, kissed her sister goodbye and walked quietly from the courtroom in custody of deputy sheriff's and a matron.

Defense attorney will have 30 days in which to appeal the conviction. He indicated an appeal would be taken.

Mrs. Bach probably will be taken to the Westfield State Prison for women at Bedford Hills later today or Friday to begin a life term.

The sentence was mandatory. Mrs. Bach was found guilty after a jury deliberated for about 12 hours. The accused housewife was not called as a witness during the trial.

District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta said he believes Mrs. Bach is the first woman ever convicted of murder in the first degree since Joseph Paonessa, Poughkeepsie mechanic, was convicted of the charge about 15 years ago. Paonessa died in the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison. A co-defendant, Alfred Kurt Von Wolfersdorf, never did stand trial. He was committed to Matteawan State Hospital for the Criminally Insane at Beacon.

Will Sell Stock

NEW YORK (AP) — The Simonds family has agreed to sell its stock in the Simonds Saw and Steel Co. to Wallace-Murray Corp. for $43.50 a share. The family owns about 26 per cent of the 1.5 million Simonds shares outstanding. Wallace-Murray manufactures automotive and plumbing materials and parts.

Wallace-Murray said that in the near future it will offer holders of remaining shares in Simonds an opportunity to sell at the same price.

ingless. That if a citizen has information of a crime it is not proper to broadcast said information to the world without first presenting the facts for investigation.

Also appearing before the Grand Jury was Thayer of station WGHQ over which he had broadcast the editorial alleging a possible "leak" in grand jury proceedings.

The investigation was concluded Monday afternoon and the Grand Jury reported shortly thereafter.

In addition to its report on the alleged Grand Jury secrecy violation, the grand jury reported three open indictments and two dismissals.

Other Bills Presented
District Attorney Joseph P. Torraca presented to Judge Staley the following bills:
The People vs. Barth Joseph O'Brien, first degree grand larceny.

The People vs. Barth Joseph Schoonmaker, attempted burglary and attempted unlawful entry.

The People vs. Hector Rivera Cruz, also known as Hector Pabon, unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

All indictments were transferred by court order to the County Court for further action and disposition.

No indictment was found in the case of John Hoag, held for second degree grand larceny arising out of a car incident. The complaint did not choose to press the charge.

The second dismissal was a John Doe matter for alleged violation of Section 1783 of the Penal Law.

Justice Staley excused the grand jurors from further service, unless called by the district attorney prior to Dec. 6 when the December Grand Jury will be in attendance.

In discharging the grand jurors, Justice Staley thanked them for their service and said members had been called upon to probe and pass judgment in an investigation on fellow citizens, a duty which was not a pleasant task. He commended

GE to Expand Plant

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP)—A $27 million expansion program at the Pittsfield plant of General Electric Co. was announced today.

New construction will begin in 1936 on an assembly and test building with 200,000 square feet of floor space. Dr. A. Eugene Shubert, general manager of the GE power transformer department said.

Eleven of the Pittsfield plant's 50 buildings will be razed to make room for the new structure, he said.

Completion of the expansion program is scheduled for late 1938.

Cub Pack 66

The theme for the November meeting of Pack 66 of West Hurley was an Achievement Parade. The opening ceremony was conducted by Den No. 7.

Robert Pettie, committee chairman, welcomed the parents and announced the addition of the following adults to the pack leadership: Mrs. Frank Hancock, Den Mother of Den No. 3 assisted by Mrs. Gordon Krueger; Richard Wike as assistant cubmaster, and Marlin Klingner as committeeman in charge of publicity. The willingness of Mrs. Hancock and Mrs. Krueger to accept the responsibility for Den No. 3 provides the opportunity for eight more boys to begin a career in Boy Scouting.

The following boys were inducted into Pack 66 as new cubs: Robert Marcato, Bradford Hancock, Michael DeMico, Kenneth Rose, and Robert Short. David Conroe was welcomed as a transferee from Manitowish.

Awards chairman William Wakefield made the following presentations: One Year Pin to Keith Anthony, Ronald Burlington, Jackie Fitzsimmons, Bradley Klingner, George Mehm, Charles Orr, Mark Wakefield and Michael Yeaple; Denner Bars to Daniel Elmendorf and Jeffrey Brooks; Assistant Denner Bars to Mark Oakley and Kurt Weinberg. Michael Gray received a Bear Badge and a Gold Arrow Point. Eric Preisendorfer received a Wolf Badge and a One Year Pin. James Wike received Gold Arrow Point and three Silver Arrow Points. George Woerthman received a Two Year Pin and a Lion Badge.

The activities for the month were opened by Den 6 presenting a puppet show representing Old MacDonald's Farm Animals. This reflected Achievement 12 for the Bear Badge. Den 3 presented a history of The American Flag. Den 4 provided a description and several examples of a Terrarium. A demonstration of the use of musical instruments to the tune of "Yankee Doodle" was presented by Den 2. Den 8 in pursuit of achievement 11 for the Wolf Badge brought to the meeting a scale model of the neighborhood around the location of the Den.

Cubmaster Frank Mehm reported the results of the Cub Olympics held at the West Hurley Elementary School. Pack 66 won first place for the hop, step, and jump event and the kangaroo relay. They took second in the parade and third in the walking race.

The next meeting of Pack 66 will be on Dec. 20.

Planes Drown Prayers

CHELMSFORD, England (AP)—A government plan to enlarge Stansted airport in Essex and make it the third principal airport serving London is opposed by the Church of England diocesan authorities here. They say vibrations and noise caused by more planes using the airport will affect at least a dozen parish churches "making the holding of services impossible."

BRIDGE

By JACOB & SON
1965 Vanderbilt Cup Winners
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Jim starts his discussion by asking his father to give a hand from his own experience to illustrate the theory of play in duplicate.

Oswald: "The Ray, Alford, Karpan Complete Book of Duplicate Bridge points out that when you reach an exceptional contract you should play as safely as possible for it and forget about overtricks. Here is a hand from the finals of the 1935 Open Pairs that really illustrates this."

Jim: "Isn't that the one where you and the late Eddie

Strategy Fine But Play? Oi Oi

Hynes won in spite of the fact that you played the final rounds with a high lever."

Oswald: "Quite so. It was really a remarkable exhibition by Eddie that won for us. Now, let's see if you can figure out what was really unusual about this hand that I played at six no-trump."

Jim: "I see you had seven diamond tricks, one spade, two hearts and two clubs in top cards so that you started with twelve cold tricks. You didn't go down, did you?"

Oswald: "No, but I sure misplaced the hand. Even at the age of 33 a headache is a headache and a fever is a fever and when I looked at dummy,

I could only count to eleven top tricks. It also was evident that the field would be playing the hand at diamonds and it would not make much difference if I made six or seven no-trump; so I decided to duck the first spade in order to help me decide how to play the clubs later on. I took the second spade and started to run off diamonds. I could not understand why I was being squeezed until about trick nine when I saw that I had all the rest of the tricks in aces and kings. My play was silly but my duplicate strategy fine.

We were the only pair in six no-trump and the lost overtrick did not even cost us half a match point."

Senior Seminar Held At New Paltz College

Sixty Ulster County seniors met Saturday, at the State University College at New Paltz to hear Dr. Charles Siepmann, chairman of the Division of Communications in Education, New York University. The title of Dr. Siepmann's lecture was "The Meaning of Education."

Among Dr. Siepmann's recommendations for educational reform were requiring prospective teachers to attend a four-year liberal arts college followed by a year's graduate master's program at a teacher training institution, doubling of present teachers salaries, and universal use of television teaching in schools today.

Following his lecture, Dr. Siep-

Sends $100 Check, Cites Treatment At Local Hospital

A West Coast insurance executive still remembers the care and treatment he received as an emergency patient at the Kingston Hospital 55 years ago.

Receipt of a contribution and letter from Edward D. Mitchell, chairman of the board of Beneficial Standard Life Insurance Company, Los Angeles, Calif., was reported to the Board of Trustees by Robert M. Schnitzer, hospital administrator. The letter said, in part:

"Enclosed is my check for December 3 at Masonic Temple at which time the points of the year will be honored. Refreshments were served in the dining room following the meeting.

$100. Again, I wish to express my appreciation for the use of your hospital and the service I received there. I was an emergency patient there almost 55 years ago, and I still keep on sending you folks a check now and then."

to provide the required transmission lines to the Hunter site, and would make the same arrangement for the Galeville site. The Galeville site is closer to the heart of the Central Hudson System, and this would lower the cost for added transmission lines, and provide better service.

Cites Saving

Whereas, the Galeville site is already in the hands of the Federal Government, therefore, it would be a big saving to the taxpayers; plus, work could be started sooner on the project.

Many acres of land in the area would be available for this project.

This location is closer to the center of the largest labor market in the East (Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Middletown, Kingston, Ellenville, Beacon, Warden) drawing from a population of over 200,000. They are all within easy commuting distance.

This is a region populated by people who traditionally join the labor-management team and want to be an important part of creative production.

Transportation Handy

The Galeville site is only minutes from a chain of super highways that reach Chicago, Pittsburgh, Buffalo, and Boston, etc., without a traffic light.

The best freight rail facilities in the East (New York Central, New York, New Haven and Hartford) an unlimited supply of natural gas and water available (Wallkill River, Shawangunk Creek, plus the New York City Water Supply System).

Two airports—Orange County at Montgomery and Kobelt's at Wallkill.

The Galeville site is located at the "hub" of this area, with everything at its fingertips, but with all the room it needs to grow.

Continue Probe Of Ellenville Woman's Death

Investigation into the death of 40-year-old Angelina Tompkins, who was found dead in her home on Berne Road, Ellenville, today was continued by State Police and Ulster County Coroner Arthur C. Chipp of Verltonk.

Mrs. Tompkins was discovered by Adam Unverzagt, same address, shortly after 4 p. m. and State Police were notified. BCI Investigator Michael J. Mahoney and Troopers Douglas Dymond and James Kelly investigated.

Coroner Chipp was called into the investigation at about 6 p. m. He withheld a verdict as to the cause of death pending further investigation.

Mrs. Tompkins was the daughter of Wilbur Yorks and Beulah Van Valkenberg Yorks. She was born at Kortright, Delaware County. It was reported she was the wife of the late Anderson Tompkins.

Coroner Chipp said Mrs. Tompkins had been a patient at New Paltz Infirmary in September and returned to her home on Oct. 16.

Thant Asks Survey
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Secretary General U. Thant has ordered a survey of the functions and cost of the 4,000-man U.N. Emergency Force in the Gaza Strip, which operates on the Egyptian-Israeli frontier.

The "acute and uncertain financial situation" of the force was given as the reason for the order, issued at the United Nations Tuesday.

Thant named a team headed by Lt. Gen. Sean McKeown of Ireland and Jiri Nosek of Czechoslovakia to make the study and report back by Dec. 10.

Van Dyke Asking

to picket respondent's office and Mr. Yerry's home.

Mentions Dissatisfaction

The report mentions dissatisfaction by the contractor with VanDyke and an "independent investigation" by Yerry, and continued:

"Prior to the filing by complainant of his complaint herein, local radio stations and The Kingston Daily Freeman carried news reports of charges of discrimination which were attributed to complainant and which arose out of his dismissal from his employment.

"Thereupon, respondent's president requested that this commission investigate into such charges. There being no verified complaint before us, such action could not be warranted. Since the filing of the complaint herein, this matter has been thoroughly investigated. It further appears that respondent's business agent, who is in charge of referral list, inquired of complainant's mother whether complainant's name should go on the work list as available for employment and, he asserts that complainant's mother demanded that her son be put back on the same job the following Monday morning.

"There is no established formal apprenticeship training program in which respondent or the union contractors in the locality of Kingston participate. Apprentices who are admitted to the union are required to 'learn by doing' and, as well, they are required to have the elementary knowledge and the skill and aptitude to learn by observation.

"A review of referrals of union members and apprentices indicates that from April to November many union members were unemployed and that complainant's name was consistently listed on the referral list and when reached in the normal course, complainant was referred for employment.

"It further appears that in July, complainant could have been referred for employment if he so desired and indicated that desire to the respondent. When in late June or early July, one of respondent's associates sought to refer complainant and telephoned to complainant's home, she then spoke to complainant's mother.

Job Refused

"The job to which complainant would be referred involved transportation of some six miles from Kingston. Complainant informed respondent's representative that he could not go on the job. As to reference in the complaint to complainant's performance of picket duty, it is alleged that he was given this assignment because there was no other work available and that it was thought fair to assign him so that he could pay his dues but that he was under no compulsion to accept that job.

The report dealt with the observation that labor work, the carrying of lumber and such, is generally accepted by apprentices, especially on small jobs, and it notes that the union's agreement contains a clause saying that "it will not discriminate in its selection of applicants for referral to jobs and added:

"It is clear that the respondent cannot force a contractor to accept or retain any employee whom the contractor does not want. On construction jobs there is no seniority. Where there is a question as to whether an employer was arbitrary in his dismissal of a union member, it is respondent's contention that it could not call a strike.

"At the time of complainant's application for membership in the union, two other white applicants sought admission. All three were admitted by vote of the membership. There has been no evidence discussed in this matter which would indicate that any union member resented or resents the membership of complainant.

"It appears, therefore, that respondent investigated into the cause of complainant's dismissal upon learning of the fact, and found that it would not be in a position drastically to intervene with a weapon of strike. It is equally evident that respondent offered to refer complainant to other employment immediately after his termination by Herzog & Stapleburgh Construction Company, and that it continued to offer employment to complainant as opportunities arose, but that complainant did not accept these offers.

"Upon the record herein taken as a whole, there is no probable cause to credit the allegations of this complaint, and I therefore order that the complaint be dismissed.

In accordance with Rule 5 of the rules governing practice and procedure before the State Commission for Human Rights, the complainant has the right to apply to the chairman for a review of the decision on this complaint. If such application is made, it must be in writing, state specifically the grounds upon which it is based and must be filed within 30 days from the date of the mailing of the notice of disposition in the office of the chairman, 270 Broadway, New York, N. Y."

Van Dyke is the son of Sixth Ward Alderman Leonard Van Dyke.

Salvation Army Begins Annual Holiday Appeal

wounded. The week before, the total was 70 killed and 237 wounded.

The average for the Korean War was about 210 American battle dead per week, although at times the number was far higher.

The jump in American and Communist casualties last week was primarily due to the hard fighting in the Ia Drang Valley 210 miles north of Saigon near the Cambodian border. Troops of the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division battled North Vietnamese regiments there all week.

It was one of the first times in the war that the Communists kept attacking American units despite heavy losses instead of stealing away. American officers believe the Communist commanders are anxious for a victory over the Americans to boost their forces' morale, to give their propaganda machine ammunition and to put them in a position of strength for any peace negotiations that might develop.

Increase Inevitable

U. S. senior commanders in Viet Nam and officials in Washington are known to be deeply concerned about the effect in the United States of the steady rise in American combat casualties. But they consider the increase inevitable as the tempo of the war and the U.S. involvement increases.

Report New Clashes

New fighting was reported on the central coast as 500 South Vietnamese troops clashed with about 200 Viet Cong 330 miles north of Saigon near the provincial capital of Quang Ngai. South Vietnamese officials claimed 150 Communists were killed.

The fighting subsided late in the day and the Communists broke contact and withdrew.

A military spokesman said two companies of Viet Cong attacked two government positions near Quang Ngai Tuesday, inflicting light casualties on the defenders. But he reported a Vietnamese relief force killed 40 Viet Cong.

Retake Two Outposts

Government troops recaptured two outposts overrun Tuesday in the Mekong Delta, and Vietnamese rangers in the battle-scarred Ia Drang Valley killed three Viet Cong.

Communist forces were reported to have withdrawn Tuesday night from around the district town of Tuy An on the central coast.

But a U.S. spokesman said there was no word whether communications had been re-established with five outposts near Tuy An that were attacked Monday.

The spokesman said the Viet Cong apparently hoped to assault government troops sent in to reinforce Tuy An. He speculated that the Communists backed off from the attack when no relief force was dispatched to the town.

Nine U.S. jet fighters pounded another suspected enemy base camp in the Mekong Delta 78 miles south of the capital. Twenty-five Viet Cong were estimated to have been killed and 19 buildings damaged or destroyed.

Other U.S. planes continued heavy strikes in North Viet Nam. They attacked bridges, railroad cars, roads and military barracks. All planes returned safely despite heavy anti-aircraft fire, the spokesman said.

Alexander Hamilton, first U.S. secretary of the treasury, was born in Charles Town, on the island of Nevis in the West Indies.

Kuwait Ruler Dies, Crown Prince Named
DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Kuwait's ruler, Sheikh Abdullah As-Sabih As Sabah, died today, Kuwait radio announced.

Death followed a heart attack suffered late last month, the announcement said.

Crown Prince Sheikh Sabah El Salem El-Sabah, a younger brother, was proclaimed ruler of the oil sheikhdom by the Council of Ministers, it said.

The crown prince has been premier of Kuwait, whose oil wealth makes it the richest country per capita in the world. Abdullah had ruled Kuwait since its independence from Britain in 1961.

Under his rule, the sandy little country became a democracy with an elected Parliament. In 1963, he enrolled the sheikhdom in the United Nations.

The emir was 70 years old, but his notably bearing, gray hair and beard made him appear much older.

Abdullah had been called one of the world's richest men. He gave away much of his personal fortune but still remained a millionaire from Kuwait's tremendous oil royalties estimated at $600 million a year.

Aged Man Drowns
MIDDLETOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Jacob W. Eaton, 86, who lived at the Sunset Haven Nursing Home in nearby Ridgebury, fell into a small stream today and was drowned.

Dr. Hudson Thompson, Orange County coroner, gave a verdict of accidental death.

Area Numismatists To Elect on Dec. 2

Plans for a Christmas party and election of officers were outlined at last week's meeting of Mid-Hudson Numismatists held at Stuyvesant Hotel, Kingston.

A nominating committee was named to present a slate of officers at the Thursday, Dec. 2 meeting. The committee includes Earl Sherwood, Robert Sandt and Mrs. Violet Martin.

The meeting will be held at Saugerties Savings Bank meeting room. Refreshments will be served.

Discuss Yemen War

HARADH, Yemen (AP)—Republican and royalist Yemeni delegates are meeting in a tent city near this mud-brick village to discuss ending the civil war in Yemen.

The conference will appoint a coalition government to serve until a referendum in November 1966 decides whether the people want the republic to continue or the monarchy to return.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic has supported the republicans with up to 60,000 troops and King Faisal of Saudi Arabia gives aid to the supporters of the deposed imam, Mohammed Al-Badr.

Conservationists hope that a few ivory-billed woodpeckers may survive in hidden retreats in Louisiana, eastern Texas, Georgia or Florida.

Men's Apparel Is Topic for First Parley at UCCC

The first of a series of early-morning conferences on retail buying was recently held at Ulster County Community College.

This conference, dealing with men's apparel, brought together four consultants from the local retail merchants who serve distinctively different clientele—their experience reflecting a wide variation of policies and procedures.

Students Lead

Sponsored by the Business Division of the college, the conferences are being arranged through the efforts of the Retail Buying class under the direction of Professor Ronald A. Koster.

The men's apparel conference, under the leadership of students David Ocker and Gabriel Cicale included presentations by buyers from four area stores; Thomas Imperial represented the Men's Shop; Norman Rafalowsky, H. G. Rafalowsky, Inc.; Elmore Yallum of Yallum's and John Toti from Robert Hall.

Tentative retail buying conferences to be scheduled in the future: Jewelry, Furniture, Shoes, Gift-card-art, Sporting Goods, Foods, Camera-photographic Goods, Hardware - wallpaper-paint, Women's Apparel, Drugs, Appliances-radio-television and Music.

Students in the class are completing their third semester in the Retail Management Program. Although the Business Division has graduated students in the executive, secretarial, business administration and accounting programs, the Retail Management program, a newer offering, will graduate its first class in June, 1966.

Commenting on the success of the first conference and the co-operation of the local merchants, Koster indicated that there was a two-fold purpose to the sessions. "Most of our Retail Management students have had limited retailing experience. By virtue of their age alone—not to mention their stability in remaining loyal to their employers, they are generally best acquainted with one or two retail fields. Classroom experiences are designed to give as broad coverage as possible without generalizing to the point of being aimless. These conferences will bring to our students experienced retailers who deal with the same basic types of merchandise."

Adds S.D. Paper

MITCHELL, S. D. (AP)—Thomson Newspaper Inc., which operates 94 newspapers in the United States and abroad, is the new owner of the Mitchell Daily Republic.

Mrs. Florence K. Ronald, president of the Mitchell Publishing Company, said Tuesday that Thomson would take over the Republic Dec. 1.

disse, but who have policies and problems that are quite different from each other in many ways."

"We feel that our graduates will be retail management material. Neil Whitehurst, chairman of the Business Division, has already received several requests from large chain operations who wish to recruit our graduates for their organizations. Because we want the best opportunities for our graduates and because our own retailing community can present some fine opportunities, it becomes obvious that a close relationship between the retailing students and the retail trade is highly desirable.

Man Pleads Innocent In Baby Beating Death

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Harry Burton Jett, 20, pleaded innocent in the Court of Record today to a second-degree murder charge in the alleged beating of a 16-month-old girl. No trial date was set.

The girl, Robin Leslie Darby, died Nov. 4, a few hours after she was hospitalized for injuries suffered the night before. The girl was taken to the hospital by her mother, Sharon Lee Kindl, 21, a divorcee, and Jett, who had been baby-sitting with the child while Mrs. Kindl worked as a waitress.

Reds Sentence Tourist

MURMANSK, U.S.S.R. (AP)—A Soviet court today sentenced a young American tourist, Newcomb Mott of Sheffield, Mass., to 18 months in a labor camp for illegally crossing the Arctic border between Norway and the Soviet Union.

The court rejected the 27-year-old book salesman's contention that he was "hot, tired and lost" when he crossed the border last Sept. 4.

Mott heard the sentence without any visible display of emotion.

Smell Nice, Work Hard

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Cuban women are being asked to emancipate themselves from domestic drudgery and work in factories. "This, of course, should be accomplished without the loss of femininity," the secretary of education for the Cuban Workers

Confederation told a labor conference recently. "The Revolution needs many women in all kinds of factory work," said Maria de los Angeles Periu.

Knocked Off Divan

FORT SCOTT, Kan. (AP)—A driverless car crashed into the living room of a house Tuesday night, knocking Nancy Ann Cox, 15, off the divan.

She was treated for knee and ankle injuries.

The car had been parked and was struck by another car involved in a collision at an intersection about 100 feet from the Cox home.

Police estimated damage to the house at $1,000 and to the cars at $1,075.

MARK CP ANNIVERSARY—Original members of the board of United Cerebral Palsy of Ulster County who are still serving mark the 15th anniversary of the organization at the regular meeting Tuesday night at the Treatment Center, 400 Broadway. Participating in the fes-

CP Organization Reviews 15 Years Of Area Service

United Cerebral Palsy of Ulster County, Inc., had its beginning 15 years ago this month.

Reorganization from a parents group to form the Ulster County Cerebral Palsy Association, as it was then called, took place in November of 1950 with the following officers: Dr. Henry L.

Bibby, president; Rabbi Herbert Bloom, vice president; Edward deGroff, treasurer, and Mary Keresman, secretary.

Rabbi Bloom, Mr. deGroff and Miss Keresman still serve on the board of UCP along with Mrs. Milton Grover, Oscar Lawatch, Miss Katherine Murphy, Mrs. Walter A. Perrett, Mrs. Gerald Sumner, all members of the original executive board and Lawrence Jensen and Dr. Elbert MacFadden, who joined the board shortly after.

Service Groups Help

Through Dr. Bibby's efforts the need for a treatment center for handicapped children was recognized by such major service organizations as the Junior League of Kingston, Kiwanis Club of Kingston and the Kingston Lions Club, all of which maintain an active interest today.

Donations for the necessary equipment for physical therapy came from the Kiwanis Club and the center was opened the following year on Dec. 11 with 25 patients. Mrs. Charlotte Peck, present clinic director, was the first physical therapist. The Junior League was the original Volunteer Driver Corps. Money for a speech therapy department was donated by the Lions Club early in 1952.

All of this took place at a time when it was just becoming apparent that people afflicted with cerebral palsy could be helped to live more normal lives. Previously, very little help was given to parents and most children were hidden away or accepted by the family as being helpless.

Expansion Through the Years
Today, still in the same space, 186 children from Ulster and Greene Counties are being treated for various kinds of physical handicaps, many not related to cerebral palsy. The staff has grown to three full time speech and hearing therapists, one physical therapist, one secretary, one clinic director, a part time nursery school teacher and a part time hearing therapist. There is a waiting list of children who are unable to be fitted in at present.

The first budget of $5,000 has now been expanded to a yearly budget of over $60,000. UCP meets this budget through the Ulster County Community Chest and by an extensive campaign throughout the rest of the area which it serves. It is also helped by many generous friends and organizations.

USP, the only qualified agency in the area to serve children with physical handicaps, is under the direct supervision of medical experts and advisors from throughout the state.

Queen Elizabeth I was the last ruler of England's House of Tudor.

Dear Abby . . .

Too Cut-And-Dried!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Where this ungracious custom originated, I do not know, but it is rapidly becoming popular in my community. At occasions where a gift is in order, a basket of tiny "scrolls" (paper rolled up and tied with a white ribbon for brides, silver for silver wedding anniversaries, gold for golden weddings, and so on) is placed on the gift table. As each person presents his gift, he is handed a "scroll." On this scroll is a TYPED "thank-you-for-your-gift" note. Then the honoree feels absolved from the task of writing thank you notes after the party. What do you think about this?

PROPER OLD LADY

DEAR PROPER: Not much. A "thank you" note of this kind has all the warmth of a smoked herring, and the tenderness of a hit-and-run driver.

DEAR ABBY: I am divorced, and have been ever since my son was four months old. (He is now nearly three years old.) His father has remarried and hasn't bothered to come to see him since we were divorced, but he does send support money. I am only 23 and hope to remarry some day and give my son a real "Daddy," but in the meantime, a problem has come up.

We live with my parents, and my son calls my father "Papa" because he hears me calling him that. But he's just discovered the word "Daddy" and he's confused. What shall I tell him? I tried to tell him that he doesn't have a "Daddy" yet, but he doesn't seem to understand. How do I go about telling him why? And if that doesn't satisfy his curiosity, how should I explain it?

YOUNG MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Tell him the truth. And answer only one question at a time—as it comes up. Tell him that his Daddy and you do not live together any more. If he asks why, tell him that your marriage was a mistake, and you decided to end it.

DEAR ABBY: Often, in the movies and, also on television I have seen a gentleman give a woman his handkerchief after she has had a crying session. I would like to know, Abby, just what does the woman do with the handkerchief after she has used it? It seems odd to me that she would give him back a dirty handkerchief. Or is it just taken for granted that she can keep it?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: The woman should take the handkerchief home and launder it. If she knows she'll see him again, she should return it in person. Otherwise, she should mail it back to him. (I say "should," knowing full well that few do.)

CONFIDENTIAL TO "AWAITING YOUR REPLY" IN MANKATO, MINNESOTA: I do not believe that a "shotgun" marriage under the circumstances you described has much of a chance to succeed and, therefore, I would not recommend it. As for marrying to give a child "a name," good names (and bad ones) are earned by those who bear it.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., for Abby's booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Girl, Woman Die In Gotham Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — Fire raced through a tenement apartment in lower Manhattan for an hour early today, killing a 7-year-old girl and her grandmother. Police identified the victims as Maria Rosaria Lugo of Brooklyn and her grandmother, Mrs. Monserate Olavaria Garcia, 58, of Manhattan.

The child was spending the night with her grandparents in their second-floor apartment when the fire started about 3:40 a.m. The cause was not determined.

About 20 other residents of the five-story building escaped without injury.

Hudson Council to Meet

Hudson's Common Council will meet Friday night to act on a floating bond issue for $1,121,000 to finance the cost of a proposed sewage abatement plant. It is expected that the federal aid and state reimbursements will amount to $660,000, with the city's share in the neighborhood of $460,000 to be raised by taxes.

Discuss Sex Education

A closed door informal session of the Ockawamick Board of Education is planned to further discuss the sex education issue studied last week and aired by Dr. N. Harold Link of Clavac, board president. The school board head said he feels that sex education should be put into the hands of educators.

Methodist Leader Attends National Evangel Conclave

Last week the Rev. George P. Werner, district superintendent of the Hudson North District of the New York Conference of The Methodist Church, attended the National Council of Evangelism sessions in the Deauville Hotel, Miami Beach.

One of the chief speakers was Dr. Franklin H. Littell, professor of the Chicago Theological Seminary, who spoke on the theme, What the World Has to Say to the Church. The concluding address was given by Gert Behanna, God Is Not Dead. Those who attended the conference from all parts of the United States, sought to find ways in which the church and the world could come into direct communication and interaction. Dr. A. James Armstrong of Indianapolis spoke on the theme, The Claiming and Redemptive Gospel.

Mrs. George Werner joined her husband at the Deauville for a part of this conference which keynote address was given by the new general secretary of the General Board of Evangelism, Dr. Kermit L. Long of Nashville, Evangelism's Hour of Destiny.

It was recognized by the National Council of Evangelism that evangelism is the primary business of the church.

Big Python Missing

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Police are seeking a 6½ foot python.

Detective L.C. Chatham said the owner, Lena Dalton, told him Tuesday the brown and cream python was left in a bathtub and the door to the bathroom was closed.

A short time later, she said, the snake disappeared.

Do You Remember

by Sophie Miller

I received an interesting letter from Commander W. C. Humphrey, USN, (ret.) of Arlington, Va. He writes in part to me: "At the suggestion of Mrs. Anderson I have visited the Carlyle House in Alexandria. My purpose was to sight the copy of the Ulster County Gazette framed and hanging inside the Carlyle Museum...the paper is dated Saturday, Jan. 4, 1800. It is in fair state of preservation...no doubt you know about it." He added. This shows with what respect copies of the Ulster County Gazette published in Kingston, by Samuel Freer are received in many museums. This copy carries the description of the funeral of George Washington. Kingstonians can see a copy in the Chamber of Commerce window, in the Gov. Clinton Hotel Building, also in the Senate House Museum and Kingston City Library. Thousands of copies of this issue were made and are all over the country. A book was written by R. W. G. Vail in 1951 on the Ulster County Gazette and its copies and put out by the New York Public Library. There is an original in the Congressional Library in Washington, D. C.

Influence of Kingstonians plays a strong part in the history of Washington, D. C. The Freer Gallery of Art of the Smithsonian Institution was built with Charles L. Freer's money. Charles L. Freer was born in Kingston, Feb. 25, 1856. Much of the collection of Chinese and Japanese and Biblical manuscripts and art works of James McNeill Whistler was collected by Charles Freer himself. Freer left school early in life not only to make a living but to make millions, and traveled extensively becoming an expert in oriental art and culture. Now his collections and Freer Gallery are known the world over.

John Vanderlyn, another Kingstonian, is historically known for his painting of the Landing of Columbus at the Capitol Rotunda, who also early in life found that knowledge and culture was not always found in formal education. Both Freer and Vanderlyn are buried in Wiltwyck Rural Cemetery in Kingston, New York.

Commander Humphrey sent a very interesting set of colorful post cards of the Carlyle Museum. It was my pleasure to meet Mr. Humphrey in person when he was in Kingston at which time he gave me some interesting old postal cards. The Carlyle House was built in 1752 by John Carlyle, a Scotch merchant and ship owner who was born in 1720 and immigrated to America in 1740. He married Sarah, daughter of William Fairfax of Belvoir whose sister, Anne married Laurence Washington, George Washington's half-brother. Laurence built Mt. Vernon. Some of the prominent people who visited the Carlyles were Benjamin Franklin, Gen. Lafayette, John Paul Jones, and even the infamous Benedict Arnold.

It is sad to state that our Senate House and Museum do not have colored postal cards like these for sale, like every other museum has. There is one of the Children's Playroom in the attic of the Carlyle House which reminds me of the room in our own Senate House. They show a bedroom, and a kitchen, such as we could have long ago had for our own Senate House its fireplace, bedrooms, spinning-wheel room, as I remember. One card shows some 500 keys from 100 to 250 years old which belong to Lloyd D. Schaeffer, owner of the Carlyle House. This 1752 magnificent residence overlooks picturesque gardens. I would be glad to show these cards to our own Senate House committees, so they too could tell and have postal cards printed about the colonial days and historic items, not found in any other museum but ours.

Former Wallkill Inmate Is Picked Up in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — A man wanted as a parole violator in New York State was under arrest today after he appeared in criminal court here on a theft charge under an alias.

FBI agents said they arrested Peter P. Smrtic, 46, Tuesday as he waited to appear in court under the name of Peter P. Blonkowski.

Smrtic was convicted in 1936 by a Montgomery County court of murdering a service station attendant during an armed robbery. He was sentenced to 20 years to life and was paroled from Wallkill Prison in 1950. The FBI said Smrtic jumped parole twice before disappearing in 1955.

He was arrested on a federal warrant issued in Albany and was held for a hearing before a U.S. commissioner.

Julie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Dillard.

Allen's Aid Succumbs, Was Hit by Auto

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Dr. Edwin R. Van Kleeck, 59, an assistant state commissioner of education, died Tuesday night in Albany Medical Center Hospital after he was struck by an automobile Monday.

Dr. Van Kleeck was walking in Albany when the accident occurred. No charges were placed against the driver.

A native of Waterford, he joined the State Education Department in 1941 and had been assistant commissioner for pupil personnel services on adult education for the past 14 years.

In addition to degrees from Albany State Teachers College and Cornell University, he held a doctorate from Yale University.

He also had been superintendent of Norwich public schools. He is survived by his wife, Charlotte; a son, Robert, and a daughter, Cordelia.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

'Special Day' At 'Y' Friday

Friday, Nov. 26 is another "Special Day" at the YMCA with extra gyms, swims, lunch, movies and a "Penny" swim.

School is closed and the program starts at 10 a. m. with "Fun Gym." Recreational swim at 11 a. m. About noon "Hot Dogs" or "Tuna Delights" will be served along with soda pop and potato chips. After lunch the full length movie, "Have Rocket, Will Travel," starring the Three Stooges.

Hundreds of pennies are thrown into the pool for the "Penny Swim." The beginning swimmers have first chance to recover and keep all the pennies they can get. Additional pennies are used for the advanced swimmers. This event is repeated by popular demand, when 90 boys participated on the last special day.

Diane E. Greene, James K. Mead Exchange Marriage Vows in St. John's Episcopal

Miss Diane Elizabeth Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Green of 15 Elm Street, Ellenville, N. Y., exchanged marriage vows with Pvt. James K. Mead, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lewis Mead of Kingston, on November 20, 1965 in St. John's Episcopal Church, Ellenville, N. Y. The Rev. Vincent Anderson, priest-in-charge at Christ The King, Stone Ridge, was the officiating clergyman.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of bombazine with a full bodice and skirt. Clusters of pearls and sequins accented the gown and a wattleau train with lace was also worn. The bride's headpiece was a petal rose with sequins and pearls and it held a fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a traditional bridal bouquet.

Miss Linda Green of 4 Elm Street, Ellenville, N. Y., was maid of honor. She wore a gown of emerald green crepe with velvet and a rose headpiece with shadow veil. Miss Mary Staner of Cragmoor, N. Y., was bridesmaid in an emerald green brocade taffeta princess styled gown with matching headpiece.

Elmer Lewis Mead Jr., Kingston, was best man, and Norman Green of Accord, ushered. The bride was graduated from Ellenville High School. Her husband is serving with the U. S. Army.

INVITATION IN BOTH NAMES

Q: Two years ago my wife and I were divorced. I recently married again. My present wife is from another city and unknown to my friends and relatives. I would like to give a large cocktail party in order to have her meet them. My problem concerns the invitations. I would like to know if it would be proper for my wife's name to appear on the invitations along with me, or since the purpose of the party is to introduce her to the guests, should the invitations go out in my name alone? My wife seems to think it would not be proper for her name to appear on invitations asking people she has never met to a party. We would appreciate your advice on this matter.

A: The invitations must go out in both your names. The fact that your wife has never met those you wish to invite, makes not the slightest difference.

Friend to Sing at Her Wedding
Q: A girl friend of mine is going to sing at my wedding. I would like to know if I should offer to pay her, or could a gift be more suitable?

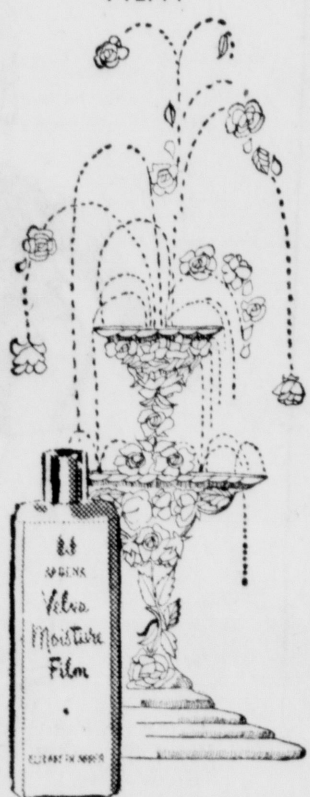

A: If she is a professional, you should pay her customary fee for singing at a wedding—unless, of course, she tells you that her singing is to be her wedding present to you. If she is not a professional, you present her with a gift instead of money.

Details concerning the announcement of an engagement are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Announcing the Engagement." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of this newspaper.

Bard College Faculty Members Will Exhibit Art Work; Show Opens November 30

Annandale-on-Hudson, N. Y.—Opening November 30th will be an exhibition of art work by members of the Bard College art faculty.

On view through December 17th, the exhibition will be held in the College's Procter Art Center. It will be open to the public from 10 a. m. until 10 p. m. daily.

The fourth show to be held in the Art Center this fall, the faculty exhibit reflects the varied and cosmopolitan character of Bard's Art Department. It will include paintings and monotypes by Matthew Phillips, Director of the Art Center; paintings and drawings by John CuRoi, assistant professor of art; sculpture by Harvey Fite, professor of sculpture, and prints and paintings by new assistant professor of art, Anthony Harrison.

Matthew Phillips, who came to the College last year from two years of painting and teaching in Paris, has exhibited his works extensively both in this country and in France. His most recent one-man show was held at the Peter Deitch Gallery in New York City last spring. John CuRoi, an abstract painter who took part in the New York "Tenth Street" activities, created a new figurative art in his 1961 exhibition at the Camino Gallery in New York. Since then he has shown his work in many parts of the United States and is represented in a number of collections of modern American art.

Harvey Fite, whose exhibited works will represent examples of direct carving in sculpture, has been teaching at Bard for over 30 years and is himself a Bard graduate. A resident of Woodstock, N. Y., he has traveled all over the world, from Central America to Cambodia, pursuing his studies in sculpture. His work is represented in public and private collections both at home and abroad.

Anthony Harrison is the head of Bard's new graphics workshop. Coming to the College from London and former head of the Central School of Arts & Crafts, London, Harrison has had several one-man shows in that city, and his work has been included in group shows across the world from Austria to British Columbia and from Barcelona to Budapest.

Hadassah Installs New Members Here; Planning Luncheon

The Kingston Chapter of Hadassah climaxes its annual campaign for Youth Aliyah, international rescue and rehabilitation movement, with a one-day solicitation drive Tuesday, Nov. 30.

Workers will meet at 9:30 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Alvin Motzkin, Flower Hill, for a breakfast before the campaign. All those who can aid should contact the chairman or Mrs. Joseph Horowitz, co-chairman.

Mrs. Motzkin announced plans for the drive at the chapter's meeting Nov. 22 at Temple Emanuel. All contributors to the drive will be Hadassah's guests at a luncheon Tuesday, Dec. 7 in Temple Emanuel. Guest speaker will be Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom; his topic, "Zionism: Yesterday's Challenge, Today's Achievement." Donations may be sent to Mrs. Harry Feldman, 110 Wall Street.

Mrs. Nathaniel B. Gross presided over the meeting, which observed a moment's silence in memory of the late President Kennedy. Also memorialized were the late Mrs. Eda Graf and Saul Brumer.

Mrs. Sidney Halpern and Mrs. Harold Newman, chairman of the recent "New and Nearly New Sale" reported on the most successful event and thanked workers and contributors. Mrs. Murray Fletcher, membership chairman, reported that the chapter now has more than 300 paid-up members, including 33 new members. Mrs. William Dean has become a new Life Member.

Mrs. Arthur Landesman, program chairman, announced that the January meeting will feature an outstanding presentation, "The Jew in Art" and will be open to all who wish to attend. Held in conjunction with the program will be an exhibit of Jewish art, with the Mmes. Alfred Zamm and Stanley Wyman in charge.

Mrs. Herbert Gertner, past president, conducted installation of new members, welcoming them as "share holders" in the "growth stock" that is Hadassah membership. Installed were the Mmes. Irving Scher, Adolf Kugelman and Celia Pines. Other new members include the Mmes. David Rubin, Samuel Stein, Alfred Rose, Jonathan Eichhorn and Marvin Millens, in addition to approximately 3 members of the newly formed Woodstock group, part of the Kingston chapter.

Mrs. Landesman introduced a moving presentation, "The Bringing Forth," the story of a young girl brought from Poland to Israel by Youth Aliyah. The cast included Mrs. Arnold Pinsky as the narrator; Miss Susie Landesman as the girl; Mrs. Murray Weiss, Miss Sadie Lutzkin, Dennis Weiss, Howard Halpern, David Landesman, Miss Lori Gertner and Miss Lynelle Schwartz. A new folk-song group, "The Balladeers," provided musical background and performed several selections. They include the Mmes. Morris Berman and Maurice Crystal in charge. Table decorations and special Youth Aliyah posters were made by Mrs. Harry Schechtman, visual aids chairman.

Newburgh Is Two Touchdown Favorite Over Kingston High

Rivals to Meet Thursday, 11 A.M. At Dietz Stadium

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Newburgh Free Academy, only two points shy of a perfect season, invades Dietz Stadium Thursday for its annual Thanksgiving Day tussle with Kingston High. Game time is 11 a. m. and the visitors from the Hilly City are favored by two touchdowns.

Though the Goldbacks have a 5-2 record as opposed to the 2-4-1 mark posted by the home side, the entire season will be wrapped in the contest which takes place between two goal posts come Thursday morning.

If records mean anything, and they usually don't when these clubs get together, coach Bill Hurley's club shouldn't even put in an appearance.

While Newburgh has wallowed Poughkeepsie, Arlington and Middletown, 18-0, and lost to Port Jervis, 13-12, Kingston has managed to beat Poughkeepsie, 19-0, been beaten by the same score by Port Jervis and has been overwhelmed, 39-0, by Middletown.

Two Close Losses
Newburgh has shown a stronger defense and a more potent offense. The Goldbacks have lost only twice and both of these because of failure to convert extra points. Arlington nipped the Hilly City squad, 14-13, and Port Jervis won that 13-12 tussle.

Coach Charles (Rip) Fornal has several of the players who hammered Kingston, 45-0, last season. Included are Kris Jackson, the speed merchant; Richard Plummer, a pile driving fullback; Ernie Thurston, the dependable center and Abe Frazier, a pass catching end.

In their seven previous games, the Goldbacks have relied chiefly on their explosive game and haven't gone to the pass on more than a few occasions. If this is to be the case against Kingston, then the outstanding running of Jackson and the inside running of Plummer will have to be halted.

Except from their 19-0 win over Poughkeepsie and a 34-6 trouncing of Vancian, the KHS players have had trouble reaching the end zone. However, they have moved the ball well on other occasions, only to be halted by either fumbles or pass interceptions.

Brian Bach, a converted end who has looked good at quarterback, is a good passer and can be expected to test the NFA secondary, which was penetrated twice by Port Jervis.

The Halfbacks Lou Perry and Bill Dugan are the speed boys in the KHS backfield while fullback Eli Basch makes the "tough" yardage.

KHS at Full Strength

Both sides are in good physical condition. Kingston, according to coach Hurley, is at full strength for the first time this season. This might help the passing situation because Gene Rios, who played only the first half against Middletown after missing four games, is the best receiver on the club.

Newburgh has to win and then hope that Middletown beats Port Jervis to create the second straight triple tie in the DUSO circuit. A Kingston victory will knock the Goldbacks out of the race, no matter who wins the Port-Middletown contest.

The weatherman, who has played an important part in several NFA-KHS contests, is predicting a dry day. Dietz Stadium might be wet in many places because of the rain earlier in the week.

No matter what the weather, a capacity crowd of close to 3,000 is expected to watch the two rivals battle it out.

Kingston holds a one-game edge in the series and would like to finish a mediocre season with a decision. Newburgh is seeking a third straight win over the Maroon and it's been a long time since that's happened.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

The now defunct Community bowling league wrote a couple of letters last September—one to the Woman's International Bowling Congress, the other to the American Bowling Congress.

The ABC acknowledged the communication, the WIBC didn't. This is interesting, since all members of the Community League were paid up, card-carrying members of the WIBC, not the ABC. The letters, of course, dealt with the celebrated cause celebre—the pre-empting of lanes occupied by the league for several years. No acknowledgment has yet been received from WIBC headquarters.

A field representative of the WIBC, holding a workshop in Kingston the other night, was asked why the WIBC had failed to give the Community at least the minimal courtesy of a reply to its letter of protest.

The representative said she was unaware of any letter. She was handed a copy. After scanning it quickly, she announced: "We (the WIBC) don't interfere with the proprietors, they don't interfere with us."

If this was a surprise, there were more coming. Asked about jurisdiction in mixed leagues, the representative told the 33 KWBA members in attendance: "The men roll under ABC rules and women under WIBC rules."

This bit of information startled some of the listeners to say the least. For years the mixed leagues have been told, we are informed, that they could adopt any rules "not in conflict with the WIBC" and had to generally follow women's rules. This doesn't square with the man-for-man and woman-for-woman policy outlined by the field representative.

About That Junior Bowler:

Then there was the case of the junior bowler at New Paltz, who rolls in an adult league (sanctioned) and the high school league (unsanctioned).

What did the representative think about that? WIBC members should not roll in unsanctioned leagues, replied the representative.

Would she put it in writing for a New Paltz representative who raised the question?

No, she said, she would first have to check with national headquarters.

While doing just that, we hope she inquires about that Community League letter that has gone unacknowledged, unanswered, undelivered since September.

A Bit Incredulous

It seems incredible to this observer that an organization which accepts dues for bowlers, lays down the rules of bowling, a strict code of ethics has not extended one of its member leagues the common courtesy of replying to a communication in which an important principle was involved.

The reply couldn't have saved the Community League. But it might have given the rank and file members a feeling that they pay their dues for something else besides a sanction, patches, certificates, field trips for the top brass and kindred items.

This entire episode will not go down in bowling history as one of the WIBC's most shining moments.

Splits and Misses

Beverly Lash, a 135 average bowler, sparked Thursday Afternoon League action with career highs of 230 and 482. She had seven strikes in the big one.

Around the area: Bob Delaney, 928 foursome at Middletown; Dot Mark 617 at Newburgh; Trappy Traphagen 287-706 at Walden.

Michele Berry bombed 647 in Mardi-Bob women's classic. Girl going up in the world: Helen Tompkins, 125, 152, 227-504. Ditto for Bob Mellert: 149, 238, 215-602.

Some new members of The Club: Cris Wilson, Lucille Everitt, Cliff Shultis, Don Tinnie, Herb Williams. On hot spree—Leon Crystal—latest 897 foursome in Mid-City Classic.

Of Men and Mice:

Even the best have those nights—John Ferraro (116)—in the Mid-City Classic. Kathy DeCicco 574 and Grace Woods crashing sound barrier with 540.

Arlene Wilson in Weekenders Mixed. International bombers—Bill Lawrence 668 and Ron Bruck 663.

Add to The Club—Irene Polhemus (formerly Irene Bruno) and Sally Hammond. Mary Lou North bombed a career-first 230 in the Suburbanites.

Salutes to Tom Hines for 279 high solo; Mary Ann Heybruck, 143 triplicate. Comebacker of the Week—Shirley Post (159 average) with 132-233-230-595 in Mid-City Mixed Foursome.

More action in Mid-City Foursome—Bob Townsend a triplicate and Peggy McHugh, 245 solo.

ONE OF THE BEST kept bowling secrets is the fact the crack Ulster Community College keglers are leading the Region 15 Junior College league. Just passing the information along.

Middletown Favored To Beat Port Jervis

Seeking its first undisputed DUSO football title since 1947, Port Jervis is a one-touchdown underdog to host Middletown in the 89th renewal of their historic rivalry Thanksgiving morning. The game gets underway at 11 a.m. and Wilson Field is a complete sellout.

Despite its unbeaten record, Port goes into the game an underdog because the Middies are rated a shade better on offense and figure to have much the better of it on defense. Reserve strength, always a key in a bruising football contest, gives the home side a decided advantage.

Against common opponents, Middletown has wallowed Poughkeepsie, 60-0 and Kingston, 39-0, while being upset, 18-0, by Newburgh. Port topped the Goldbacks, 13-12, in an upset and also defeated Kingston, 19-0, and Poughkeepsie, 45-7.

If picking by comparative scores, the Raiders, coached by Joe Viglione, would seem to rate an edge. However, despite their loss to Newburgh, coach John Brunner's Middies have played a tougher schedule and won the other six starts.

1965 Deer Take Is Above Normal

The 1965 big game season in Region 8 (Dutchess, Putnam, Ulster, Sullivan, Westchester, Orange and Rockland counties) appears to be headed toward a higher than normal take this year, Warren H. McKeon, regional supervisor, reports.

A total of 420 deer were checked in State Conservation Department biologist's at the checking station at Fair Cakes in Orange county. One hundred eleven deer were checked at the Sparrowbush station in Sullivan county and 85 at Hawthorne in Westchester.

On the Ellenville Cooperative Area in Ulster county, the take was above normal with 20 deer recorded thus far. Other areas taken include: Dutchess county, 31; Putnam county, 21; Swan Lake (Sullivan) about average with 10 deer recorded. The Columbia-Dutchess area near Millerton reported six deer.

It has been observed that on the controlled public hunting areas the average size of the deer antlers has increased markedly, probably due to a healthier relationship of herd size to range.

Pick Army Over Navy

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Saying farewell to the college football season with the final batch of forecasts.

Last week's efforts resulted in an average of .628, making the season's figure .704.

Here's the last chance of the year to get healthy:

Army over Navy: The Middies have the more versatile attack but the Cadet defense is by far the better of the two. This annual battle will be your television fare on Saturday.

Nebraska over Oklahoma: You can watch this midland classic while digesting your Thanksgiving Day turkey. The Huskers have everything, including two quarterbacks and Walter Barnes, an outstanding lineman.

Notre Dame over Miami: Michigan State held Notre Dame to minus yardage but Nick Eddy and Bill Wolski make up for it at the expense of the Hurricanes. A Saturday night game.

Alabama over Auburn: The Crimson Tide seems as relentless as the ocean tide, a Saturday afternoon affair.

Texas over Texas A&M: Quarterback Marv Kristynik and linebacker Tommy Nobis play their final game for the Longhorns in this annual Turkey Day classic.

Tennessee over Vanderbilt: The Vols' only defeat was by a single point. It is scheduled for Saturday.

Mississippi State over Mississippi: The Mississippi Bulldogs get their second straight triumph over Ole Miss. The victory margin won't be great, however.

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Ithaca went down in defeat before Brown University Tuesday in the first round of the NCAA soccer tournament.

Frank Golet scored the deciding goal as the Bruins beat the Upstate team, 2-1.

It was the 12th victory of the season for the undefeated Brown Bears, who have tied one game. The defeat gave Ithaca its first loss on a record of 10 wins and one tie.

Tough Turkey Ahead for Lions

DETROIT (AP) — League-leading Baltimore, riding on the crest of an eight-game winning streak, can take a giant step toward another Western Conference title against the injury-riddled Detroit Lions Thursday.

It marks the first Thanksgiving Day battle ever for the Colts, who can mathematically eliminate all teams but Green Bay and Chicago with a win or a tie against the Lions.

The game is the 26th holiday tussle for the Lions, who hold a slim 13-11-1 edge.

The game, which will be televised nationally, is scheduled to start at 12:15 p.m., EST.

The previous games have attracted 982,938 fans and the Lions will honor the one-millionth fan to attend the Turkey Day classic.

The Colts clobbered the Lions 31-7 more than six weeks ago for one of the most one-sided losses suffered by the Lions in a 5-5 season.

The Lions will play two of their remaining three games on the road. The Colts play two of their remaining three games at home — against Green Bay and Chicago.

Several Turkey Day Games Set

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thanksgiving Day used to be a big day for college football. These days there is only a scattering of traditional games as evidenced by the lean national program Thursday.

In the past, the Cornell-Penn clash at Franklin Field in Philadelphia was a national headliner. This year it is just a traditional Ivy League set-to while the Nebraska-Oklahoma clash at Lincoln takes over the national spotlight. It can be seen on national television, NBC, starting at 1:45 p.m., EST.

The unbeaten, untied Nebraska Cornhuskers, third-ranked nationally behind Michigan State and Arkansas, will be favored for their 10th straight victory for their first undefeated season in half a century.

A victory over Oklahoma also would give the Cornhuskers their third straight Big Eight crown to carry into the Orange Bowl against Alabama on New Year's night.

Traditional rivalry also is at stake in the Texas at Texas A&M game and in the Virginia Tech vs. Virginia Military clash at Roanoke.

Dakota State Tops Nation's Small Colleges

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Dakota State emerged today as the nation's top small-college football team, narrowly beating Middle Tennessee for the honor.

The Bison of Fargo, N.D., drew four first-place votes for a total of 84 points in The Associated Press' final weekly poll.

Middle Tennessee had two first-place votes and finished with 68 points to gain the runner-up spot. Both wound up undefeated seasons last week. Middle Tennessee won all its nine games without a defeat.

North Dakota State, invited to play in the Pecan Bowl Dec. 11, was unbeaten and untied in 10 games.

The biggest gain was made by Sul Ross, which jumped from eighth place to third after defeating Sam Houston 29-23 for its 10th straight victory Saturday.

Sul Ross, which also ended the season undefeated, had one first-place vote for 43 points.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and points:

1. N. D. State (4) 10-0 84

2. Middle Tenn. (2) 9-0-0 68

3. Sul Ross (1) 10-0-0 43

4. Los Angeles St. 8-1-0 35

5. Tenn. State 8-0-0 32

6. Northern Ill. 9-0-0 30

7. Maine 8-1-0 30

8. E. Carolina (1) 8-1-0 27

9. St. John's, Minn. 9-0-0 20

10. East Stateburg 9-0-0 19

Spartan Defense Is Plain Rugged

NEW YORK (AP) — Michigan State's great defensive effort against Notre Dame not only solidified the Spartans' position among the nation's major college defense leaders, it shook up the offense standings as well.

State, the nation's leader in rushing defense and second-ranked in total defense, held Notre Dame to minus 12 yards running.

This effort removed Notre Dame as a threat to rushing leader Nebraska by dropping the Fighting Irish from second to ninth. Notre Dame's failure to score a touchdown against the Spartans dropped it from first to fifth in the scoring race.

Statistics released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau showed that the Spartans' effort against Notre Dame's running was the finest by one major team against another in four years.

State's rushing allowance of just 45.6 yards a game this season also has been bettered only once in 18 years — Syracuse allowed opponents only 19.3 yards a game in 1959.

The statistics also revealed Tulsa leading in total offense and forward passing, Southern Mississippi first in total defense, Toledo first in pass defense and Texas No. 1 in punting.

Yonnetti's Painters 3, Lincoln Park Inn 0; JH Byrne 2, Dee's Beauty Salon 1.

ELLA NERONE paced the Ladies' Booster with 147-167-187-501. Aylene Kiersted had a career first 204. Results: Eng's Tea Garden 3, Katsbaan Tavern 0; B and D Texaco 2, Sawkill Trailer Park 1; Island Dock Lumberettes 2, Kiersted Ranch 1; Bob Meyers Market 2, X-Pert Body Shop 1; Silver Lake Dairy Bricklayers Local No. 14 0; Maids 3, Metzger's Bulldozing 0.

Favor Chargers Over the Bills

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) —

The Buffalo Bills have qualified for the title of superior "mudders" but the San Diego Chargers are favored by a touchdown in the annual Thanksgiving Day clash of the American Football League's powerhouse here.

The nationally televised game between the Bills, 8-2, and the Chargers, 6-2-2, could be a preview of the AFL title match.

The game will be played in 34,000-seat Balboa Stadium, which should be filled unless rains continue to plague the area. The turf has been saturated with rainfall beyond the point of drying out in time.

A "mudder" is a football player who likes to play in the mud — and the Bills, even if they don't enjoy the goo, have a 4-0 record on the road this year — all played in the rain.

They've won all but one of their last 13 road games.

A year ago, the Bills triumphed in a 27-24 thriller when Pete Gogolak booted a last-minute field goal. The Bills went on to win the title by defeating San Diego 20-7.

The Chargers avenged that by clobbering the Bills 34-3 last Oct. 10 in Buffalo.

Buffalo, leading New York by 3½ games, is a cinch to wrap up another Eastern Division title.

The Chargers must protect a one-game lead over Oakland in the West. San Diego has lost two of its last three games.

Old Man Moore Had Big Sunday

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — When Lenny Moore was given the game ball after Baltimore's eighth straight victory Sunday, a newsmen grabbed Lenny's hand.

"It's like old times," he said to the Colts' halfback.

"Yeah," grinned Moore. "And its about time, isn't it?"

Moore had been something less than sensational for the Colts this season after leading the National Football League in scoring with 20 touchdowns last season.

It was Moore's best day of the season when he scored twice against Philadelphia Sunday, caught seven passes for 163 yards and carried 10 times for 54 — an offensive total of 217 yards.

As a result The Associated Press named Moore the Offensive Player of the Week in the NFL.

Johnny Unitas, taking over from young Gary Cuozzo, shared the headlines with Moore for picking up 305 yards with his passing. It was a Unitas 52-yard TD pass to Moore that produced the Colts' first score.

Double Threat

BUFFALO, N. Y. (NEA) — Buffalo Bills' fullback Billy Joe was one of the world's leading shot putters while at Villanova . . . His best distance was more than 62 feet.

Beat Hub in Playoff

Armstrong's Capture YMCA 'A' Cage Title

Armstrong's staged a strong second effort to defeat Hub Delicatessen No. 1, 92-84, for the YMCA "A" League basketball championship last night.

Big Sam Brown, the league's leading scorer, poured 37 points for the winners. Ed Parker (17) and Tom Waters (18) shared 35. Top shooters for the Delicatessen were Chick Boice with 22 and Bill DuBois with 21.

Armstrong's won the title in formidable fashion. They lost their first game of the season to Hubs, 92-82, then topped the Delis, 97-85, in their next meeting and won last night's playoff game. They reeled off six straight wins after the opening loss.

Strong Second Half

Hub led 28-21 at the quarter last night but Armstrong's rallied to tie the score, 44-44, at halftime. Brown exploded for 25 of his 37 points in the second half as Armstrong's rolled to a 48-40 margin.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market churned higher in heavy trading early this afternoon.

Aerospace defense issues, airlines and selected electronics moved ahead sharply in a resumption of Tuesday's rally.

There was considerable lagging among some influential blue chips, however. Du Pont dropped more than 2 and General Electric 1.

Steels rose fractionally and rails moved nicely ahead on balance but big three motors were all down.

The net result was a slight gain on balance.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .3 to 352.8 with industrials off .8, rails up 1.4 and utilities off .1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .23 at 488.65, dampened by the sharp losses in some stocks.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index, though, was ahead .04 at 81.82, giving a broader representation of the over-all market.

Prices were generally higher in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

monwealth Edison; Northern Illinois Gas; American Can; Vulcan Materials; Sears, Roebuck and International Harvester. What do you think of insurance stocks at present and do you have any comments on my list of stocks?" B.G.

(A) I should like to congratulate you on an excellent list of stocks, almost equally divided between growth and income issues. American Can has shown little earnings expansion for many years, but the yield is good and share net in 1965 should be the best in a decade. Vulcan produces building materials—a pretty competitive business—but earnings have been rising in recent years. The yield here is good and on this basis the stock may be retained. Harvester is one of the world's great enterprises. The stock is cyclical but the chart shows a generally upward curve.

I do not advise insurance stocks at present because they have fallen out of favor with investors and in general have behaved badly. I would add General Telephone & Electric to the growth section of your list, which comprises your remaining stocks on which I have not commented.

(Q) "I bought Series E bonds and put on the name of a beneficiary. This beneficiary died and I would like to substitute a new name. What is the procedure?" T.S.

(A)—The procedure is simple. You should go to a Federal Reserve bank or a local Savings Bond office, if that is possible. If not, you should write to the Savings Bond Division, Treasury Dept., Washington, D.C., advising them of the death of the beneficiary and your wish to substitute a new name.

Any one of these three offices will provide you with a form which will instruct you to supply proof of death of the former beneficiary. The form contains a space for the substitution of a new beneficiary. The date of your bonds remains unchanged. ed to members of the seminar group who had satisfactorily completed the eight-session program on Federal Income Tax and State of New York Sales Tax. The Tax Seminar was coordinated by Neil N. Whitehurst, chairman of the Business Division of Ulster County Community College.

Williams entered the Internal Revenue Service as a Deputy Collector at Belleville, Ill., in 1948. He became an Internal Revenue agent in 1949 and a special agent in 1951 at East St. Louis, Ill. In 1954, Williams was appointed a field audit supervisor at Mt. Vernon, Ill., in the Springfield district. In 1959 he was promoted to the position of chief, Field Audit Branch of the Milwaukee District. From this position he was selected to participate in the executive development program in 1962 and upon completion of this program, in November 1962, he was assigned as assistant district director of the Buffalo District. In April 1965, Williams began his duties as District Director at Albany. Williams is a graduate of Southern Illinois University with major in Accounting. He has done graduate work at the University of Illinois and St. Louis University.

Following Williams' talk, Dr. Dale B. Lake, president of Ulster County Community College, addressed the seminar participants. Dr. Lake said, "This is one of a number of ways in which the Community College is serving the needs of the community of which it is a part and to which it belongs. The large enrollment in this seminar is testimony to the value which such programs have for professional businessmen and women. We plan to continue providing these kinds of programs as part of our total commitment to the Ulster County area."

nine. The four men worked together in the Vocational Training Department. The bomb apparently was a paint thinner, possibly a vinegar bottle.

Randolph said county authorities would decide what charges to file against the rioters.

The other two hostages, Guards Albert W. Rohlfing, 59, and Arthur Gene Bierman, 37, both of Sparta, Ill., were released unharmed when the four men surrendered. The convicts held a knife at Bierman's throat while they talked to Randolph through a barred door.

Guards fatally stabbed in the riot were Lt. Lewis M. Paul, 36, of Murphysboro, Ill.; Arthur L. Kisro, 45, of Chester; and George L. Wilson, 62, of West Frankfort.

Conditions Given

Stabbed seriously were guards John Russell, 58, of Grand Tower, Ill., and Clinton Alsun, 59, of De Soto, Ill. Less seriously stabbed were Guards Paul W. Simpson, 50, of Chester, and Melvin K. Staton, 27, of Herrin. All were in a Chester hospital.

Guard Wilbur A. Mortiz, 56, of Jacob, Ill., was seriously burned when the fire bomb was thrown into the cage where he sat with a shotgun, watching convicts eat dinner. Then half a dozen convicts began scuffling, guards rushed to break it up, and the convicts brought out their homemade knives.

The four prisoners described by Randolph and Frye as ringleaders were Alonzo H. Jones, 29, serving three to seven years for theft from Coles County, Ill., who escaped from Menard earlier this year and was free for 18 days;

John W. Stamps, 26, serving 25 years for murder from Madison County, Ill.;

Printess R. Griffin, 26, serving three to five years from Cook County (Chicago) for armed robbery;

William E. Bassett, 26, serving 3 to 10 years from Wayne County for forgery.

Frye said a fifth man still was free in the prison and was being sought. But it was thought that he may have had no real part in the riot and may have taken the opportunity to hide.

Frye said a fifth man who earlier was thought to be free in the prison had been accounted for. The warden said the inmate had been pushed into the kitchen when the uprising started.

Paul was stabbed in the heart and died almost immediately. Kisro and Wilson died later. Rohlfing, Bierman and Gross were dragged into the kitchen. Then the convicts piled bags of rice against the door.

Coming in on a Laser

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP) — Two compact modulators—devices to impress information on laser beams—have been developed for the Air Force by Sylva Electric Products Inc. here. The units—one 18 inches long and the other three-and-a-half inches—produce rapid variations in the intense, pencil-thin beams of light that emit from lasers. This permits transmission of voice, video, telegraph and telemetry signals.

Weather: Fair.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on the Freeman thermometer during the night was 33 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 43 degrees.

Weather Forecast

Lower and Upper Hudson Valley:

Mostly cloudy this afternoon, with chance of brief light showers or snow flurries over higher elevations. High in upper 30s to mid 40s. Partly cloudy to cloudy and a little cooler tonight. Low in 20s. Thursday, considerable cloudiness with little change in temperature. High mid 30s to low 40s. Winds variable to westerly this afternoon and tonight. Becoming southerly Thursday.

Western New York, Northern and Southern Finger Lakes and East of Lake Ontario:

Variable cloudiness and cool this afternoon. High 40 - 45. Cloudy, with seasonable temperatures and showers and snow flurries likely, tonight and Thursday. Low about 32. Variable winds, 5-15. Becoming easterly, 10-20, tonight and Thursday.

Since World War II, the Eiffel Tower has drawn more than a million visitors a year, making it Europe's No. 1 tourist attraction.

Forecast Is Given Through Nov. 29th

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Extended forecasts for Upstate New York, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from Thursday through Monday:

Temperatures are expected to average around normal for late November. Moderate at the beginning, with some warming by Friday or Saturday and colder again by early next week.

Precipitation will be mainly light. Some light shower or snow flurry activity by late Friday or Saturday, then a cooler trend with little precipitation Sunday through Monday.

Daytime highs will range from upper 30s to well into the 40s west and north and mainly in the 40s over southeast. Nighttime lows mostly in 20s and low 30s.

Rusk Is Encouraged

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today he has found among hemisphere foreign ministers "a broad consensus on the desire to strengthen, rather than weaken, the inter-American system."

"There were some differences about details of procedure but a broad consensus has emerged," Rusk told a reporter as he prepared to leave the special Inter-American Conference here.

Rusk scheduled a two-hour stop at Asuncion to call on Paraguayan President Alfredo Stroessner before flying back to Washington tonight.

Rides the Air Currents

The Everglade kite delights in using his broad wings and square tail to ride thermal air currents. On warm days, the bird sometimes hovers nearly motionless for hours.

Mild Turkey Day Forecast

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Generally mild weather is in store for Thanksgiving Day in New York State, although a few showers or snow flurries are likely tonight and Thursday in Western New York and near the Finger Lakes.

That was the forecast today from the Weather Bureau, as early morning temperatures around the state ranged from a little below freezing to the low 40s.

The ground covering and the remaining foliage will be mostly November brown. Little temperature change was forecast for Friday.

The bureau predicted fair skies tonight and Thursday over New York City and Long Island, with high temperatures Thursday from the mid 40s to around 50.

Some high clouds and temperatures in the 40s Thursday were forecast for the rest of Eastern New York.

The state will warm up a bit Friday or Saturday, and light precipitation—either showers or snow flurries—is expected, the bureau said. A cooler trend was predicted for Sunday and Monday.

Capital Is Mulling Two-Chinas Policy

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U. S. officials are reportedly reported to be taking a careful look at the possibility of switching to a "two-Chinas" policy because of the growing movement to seat Red China in the United Nations.

One authoritative U. S. source has suggested that an alternative will have to be found by next fall to the 16-year-old policy of trying to keep the door shut to Peking. This source added that the seating of both Red China and the Nationalists might be the only practical course for the United States. It is generally conceded at the United Nations that the Chinese Communists have been barred for the last time. The General Assembly voted 47-47 on the question last week and the Peking trend is expected to continue. It is also doubtful if the United States will be able to win enough support next year to require that Red China's supporters muster a two-thirds majority to get Peking admitted.

Disabled Veterans Have Six Months On Insurance Plan

Eligible disabled veterans have less than six months in which to take advantage of the re-opened National Service Life Insurance program which closes on May 2, 1966, according to Charles Culver, counselor of the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs, and John B. Tyler, director, Ulster County Veterans Service Agency.

Culver and Tyler said, that veterans need not have to purchase the full $10,000 of coverage. Instead, they said, eligible veterans may purchase as little as $1,000 coverage if they find it would be a financial hardship to procure more. Additional amounts are issued in multiples of $500.

To secure this new GI insurance, veterans must have a service connected disability or a non-service connected disability so severe that commercial insurance cannot be purchased at highest prices. In addition, veterans applying must have been originally eligible for GI insurance between Oct. 8, 1940 and January 1, 1957 and, for some reason, failed to take advantage of it or, having purchased it, let all or part of it lapse. Culver and Tyler noted that the new policies carry low, non-dividend premiums which compare favorably with the net cost of World War II GI Insurance.

Disabled veterans who desire to apply for this new insurance, or who would like more information concerning it, are asked to contact Culver or Tyler at this office located on the third floor in the Ulster County Office Building, Kingston.

Disabling veterans who desire to apply for this new insurance, or who would like more information concerning it, are asked to contact Culver or Tyler at this office located on the third floor in the Ulster County Office Building, Kingston.

Local Man Picked Up

A local man said to be wanted by authorities at Salt Lake City, Utah, was arrested Tuesday night by local police and FBI agents. Police identified him as Edward Walter Rhymer, 25, of 92 Foxhall Avenue. The warrant executed here charged him with "unlawful flight to avoid prosecution." He was booked by Detective William Slover and Officer John Crespiro. The report listed burglary and grand larceny as the pending charges. Details were not available from the FBI today.
